BYRD : THE EXPLORER AND THE MAN

THE annals of world exploration contain inspiring records of unflinching courage, of unyielding fidelity to ideals, of high triumphs over adversity—narratives that surpass in their enthralling interest any stories of fiction, narratives that dramatize man's struggle to a higher civilization and the advance of science.

No explorers have ever shown greater valor, resourcefulness, even willingness to risk death in its most terrifying forms, than the polar explorers who are carrying on their own work in our own generation.

Worthy to stand with the bravest and to share with them the highest honors men pay to explorers is Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd.

In difficulties he had to surmount to prepare himself for his work, Byrd yields first place to no man. In the skill with which he solved each new problem he made polar history. In area of polar territory he has sighted and mapped he is the foremost among all who have gone there. Admiral Byrd is the only man who has flown over both of the earth's poles ; he is the only living man who has been to both ; he has organized the most completely equipped expedition that has ever gone out.

No hero of a fiction story has had more glamor, more adventure, a greater struggle, a finer success than that which marks the life story of Commander Byrd. In the world's vastest icy wastes, among the world's lowest temperatures and strongest winds, he flew airplanes twenty-three times, made twenty-three safe landings, traversing 7,085 miles.

FOREWORD

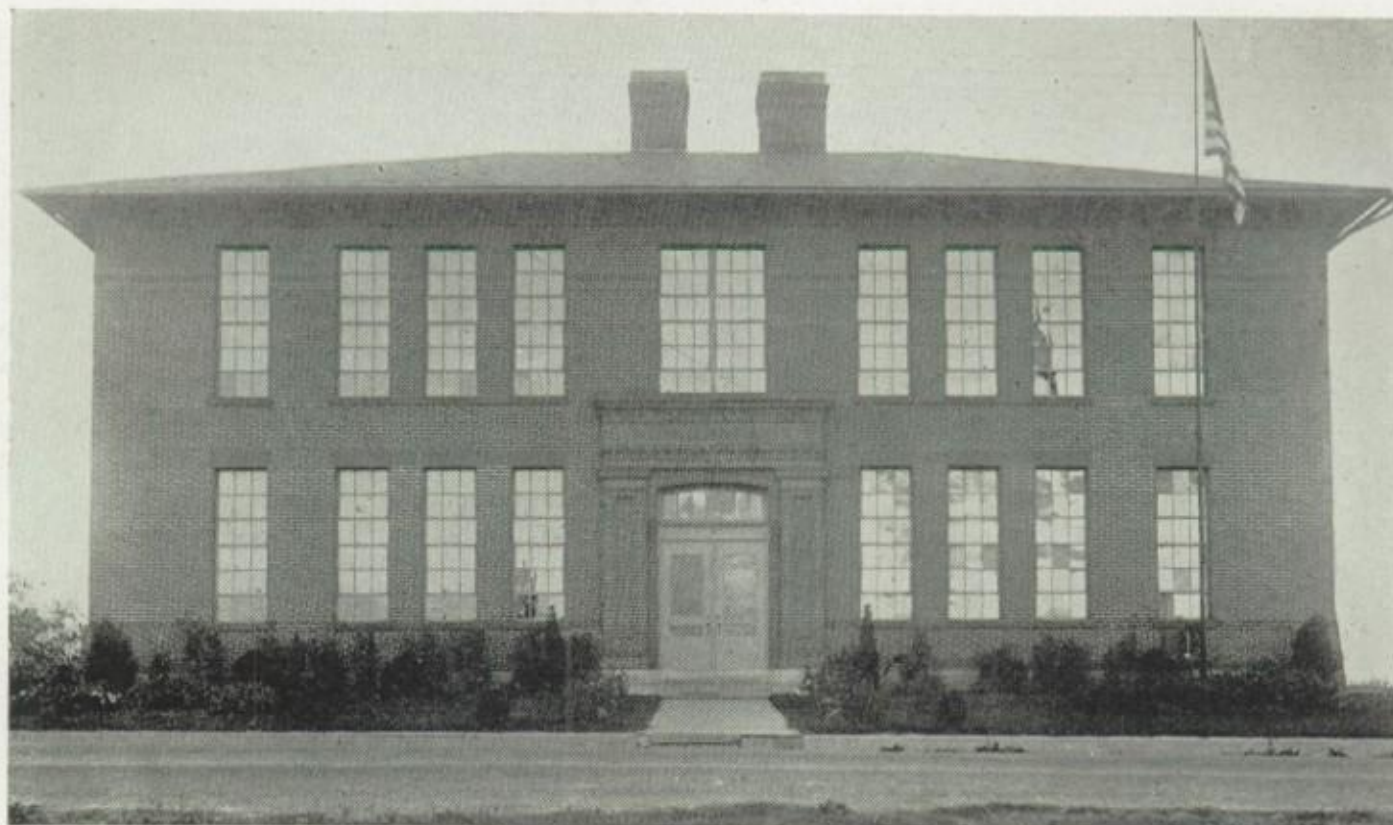

Pleasant thoughts of true fellowship with school friends and faculty, now vivid and seemingly indelible, will gradually fade and pass.

To preserve these memories for future moments of enjoyment is the object of this book.

N. H.

TO OUR MOTHERS

APPRECIATION is an intangible quality. It can be expressed only by some outward token. Therefore, as a concrete symbol of our sincere appreciation, we, the Class of 1931, affectionately dedicate this volume of The Mirror to our dearly beloved mothers who have so earnestly striven to make our lives successful.

ALMA MATER

B-ville High School we are bringing
 Our gifts and homage due ;
 Our songs and praises ringing
 Of debts we owe to you.
 Other highs all have their colors
 Which are loved by one and all ;
 But the noblest and the fairest
 Are Biglerville's Black and Gold.

When we enter life's great battle
 And high school days are o'er ;
 We will think of thee and love thee,
 As ne'er we have done before ;
 Our thoughts will surely linger,
 Our lives will ever tell ;
 We love thee Alma Mater,
 True-hearted Biglerville.

SCHOOL SONG

B-I-G-L-E-R-V-I-L-L-E We love you,
 B-I-G-L-E-R-V-I-L-L-E We love you,
 We love you in the morning and we love
 you in the night.
 We love you when we're with you
 And we love you out of sight ;
 B-I-G-L-E-R-V-I-L-L-E We love you.

BASEBALL YELL

Hit 'em high, Hit 'em low!
 Come on, Biglerville,
 Let's go !

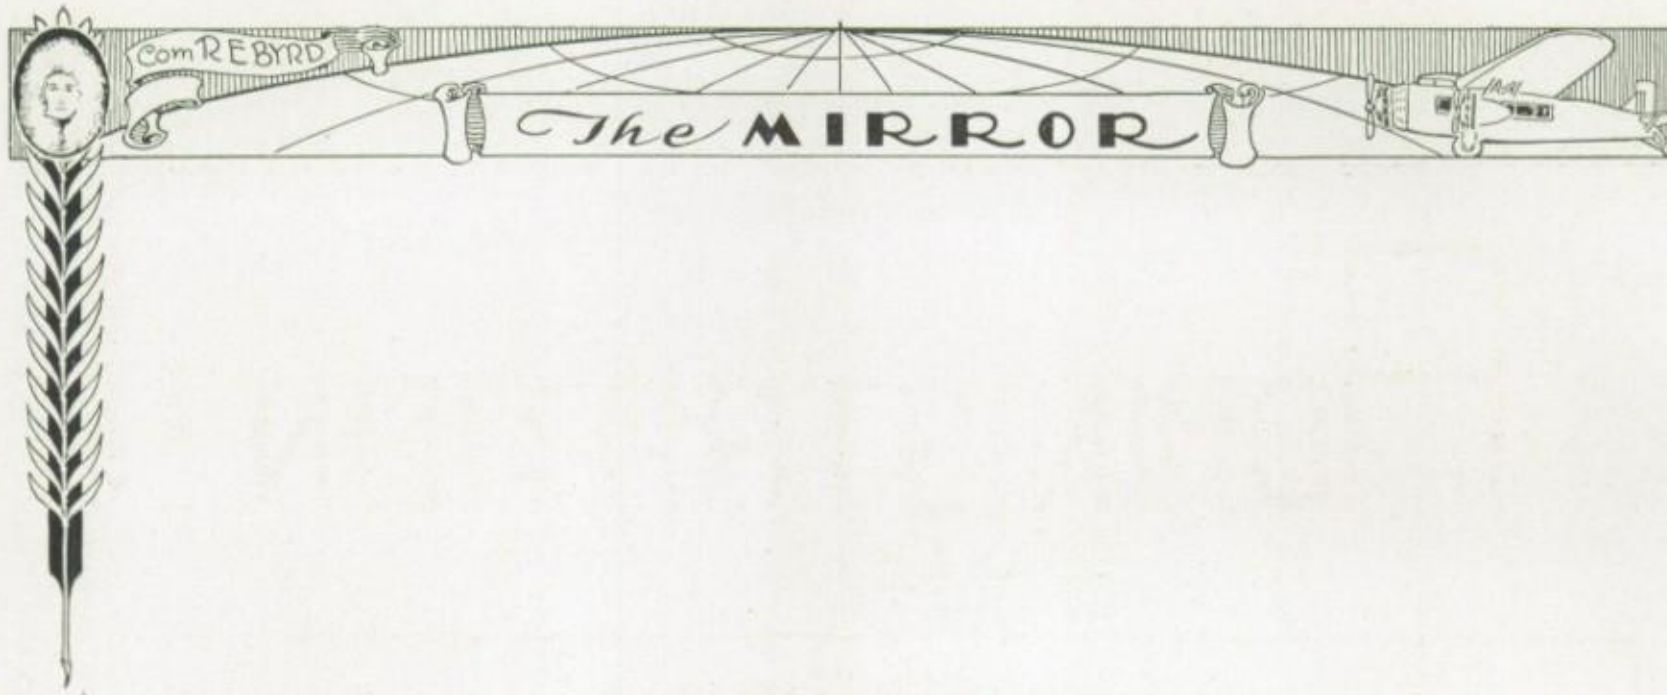

BASKETBALL YELL

Yea team ! Fight team fight !
 Yea team ! Fight team fight !
 Fight team, fight team,
 Fight team fight !

FOOTBALL YELL

We want a touch-down,
 We want a touch-down,
 We want a touch-down now.
 We want a touch-down,
 We want a touch-down,
 We want a touch-down how ?
 E-A-S-Y, easy, easy, easy.

SCHOOL HISTORY

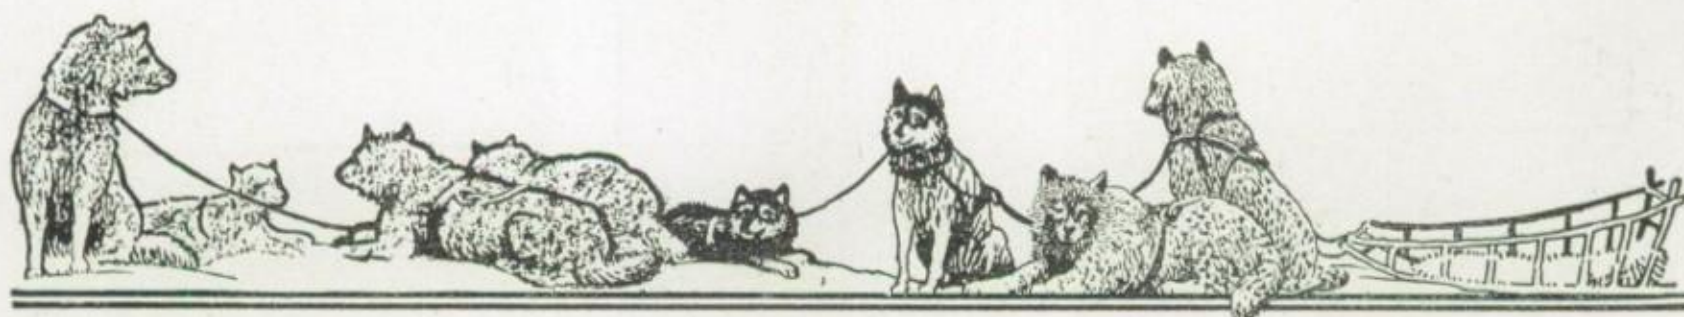

ONE of the most peculiar things happened last year—one of our august body of thirty-six was asked to journey with Commander Byrd to the south pole. While scouting about in the snow-drifts he came upon a tiny igloo hidden among the hills. Upon walking up to the low entrance and peeping in, what do you think he saw ??? A tiny and shrivelled bit of humanity, so tiny, he was, that he seemed almost like a snow-flake himself. Before him in the icy floor of his home was a crevice several inches in length. The visitor, becoming very curious, finally picked up courage and entered the home.

He greeted the old man and immediately entered into conversation with him. He finally got around to asking the old man what the crevice was used for. His ancient friend told him that through that crevice he could see the history of the ages.

Eager to understand it all, the visitor peered through the crevice ; immediately his senses began to swim, for there, stretched out before his very eyes was the history of the world in tiny pictures. There were the Caesars, Napoleon, King George and President Coolidge, and best of all, there was old B. H. S.

First a tiny red schoolhouse in a little town called Middletown, then the children going to school on the third floor of Thomas Bros.' Store. Finally there appeared the two story brick building which stands today, surrounded by its beautiful lawn and shrubbery.

Proud was our classmate of his Alma Mater, and justly so, and the rest of us are just as boastful in claiming her as our foster mother.

LEWIS RICE

"Shake"

Commercial

Bendersville, Pa.

"You oughta' see the girl I met last nite."

Lewis' chief ambition is to have a new Ford. He claims that his old one is not good enough for her to ride in, so that's the reason for his wish. We all join in wishing Lewis the best of success in whatever field he enters after graduation.

Baseball (2, 3); Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Operetta (1, 2, 3); Spring Musical (3, 4); Music Club (4); Track (3); Science Club (1).

MAE CRUM

"Crummie"

Commercial

Gardners, Pa.

"Don't bother me, I'm busy."

Mae is always so unobtrusive that we hardly realize that she is around. Here we find another girl who claims the distinction of being on the honor roll. She is ever generous, kind and willing to do her bit. What more is to be desired?

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Perfect Attendance (1); Treasurer Arts and Craft Club (4); Science Club (1).

EVERETT ANDERSON

"Andy"—"Sampson"—"Andrew"

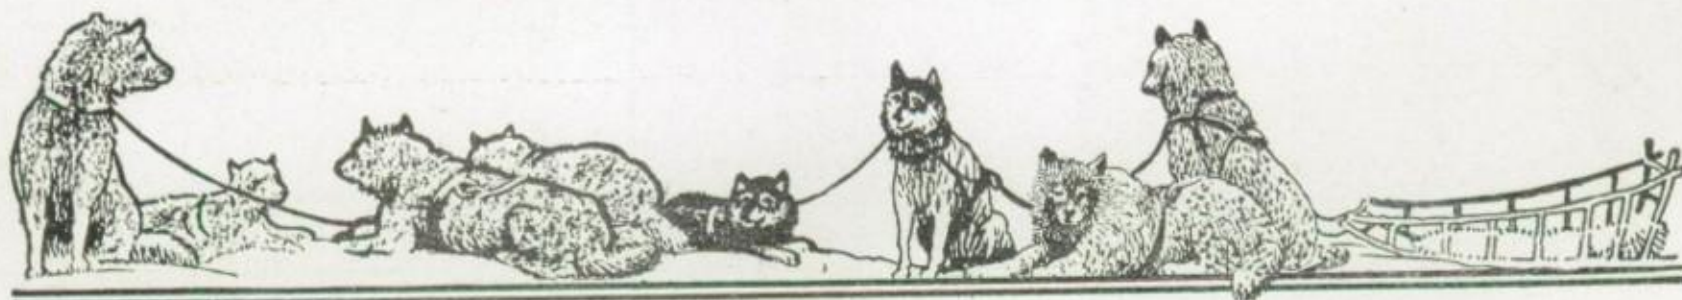

Commercial

Gettysburg R. D., Pa.

"Le'me see how you did it."

Everett has a reputation for being studious and persevering. Although he told us in P. D. class that John Paul Jones was a sea pirate and that Jane Addams was a famous Socialist leader we believe that he is well versed in Ancient History. We feel sure that he will make good in the business field.

Perfect Attendance (2, 3); Commercial Club (4).

HILDA FOHL

"Hillie"

Commercial

Gardners, Pa.

"Aw! Shucks!"

Some business man is going to be mighty lucky when he hires Hilda for his bookkeeper, for can she do it! I'll say she can, she is Miss Bowersox's star bookkeeper. Hilda is the girl with the rainbow nature. Her moods are as varied as the weather, but no matter what her mood she is always willing to work.

Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Commercial Club (4); Secretary Commercial Club (4).

HARRY CONOVER

"Connie"

Academic

Aspers, Pa.

Do you know at whom you are gazing when you look at the adjoining picture? None other than the athlete of the class of '31. Harry's interests in life are so many and varied that we cannot begin to enumerate them but his good sense of humor will pull him through any place.

Student Council (2, 3, 4), Vice-President Student Council (4); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Music Club (4); Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Operetta (1, 2, 3); Science Club (1); Biglerville High School Band (4); Soccer (1) Football (2, 3, 4), Captain Football Team (4); Basketball (2, 3, 4); Baseball (2, 3, 4); Track (3, 4); Assistant Track Manager (3), Track Manager (4).

DOROTHY HOFF

"Dot"

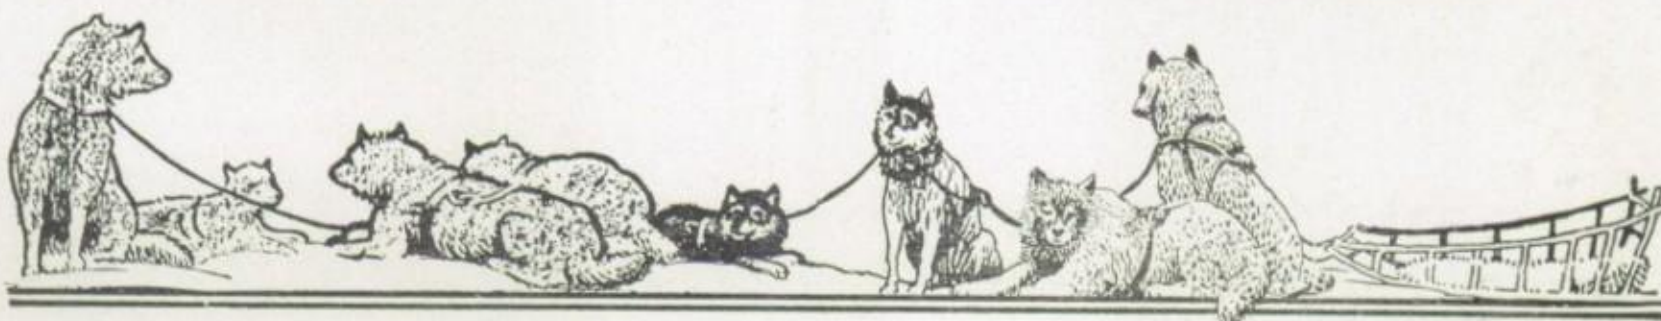

Commercial

Biglerville, Pa.

"I laughed 'til my sides hurt."

Dorothy is the girl in B-ville with the contagious laugh. Tell her a good joke and, when she "catches on", she will start to laugh—and oh, that laugh! It affects the girls in her section in such a way that they follow along and laugh also. There is not a person in school who does not admire her good nature. "Dot" enjoys cutting stencils and running off mimeograph copies so much (???) that we are sure she will succeed in her commercial career.

Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Music Club (4); Perfect Attendance (1, 2, 3); High School Play (4); Science Club (1).

WILSON WENK

"Abe"

General

Aspers, Pa.

"What in the samhill—?"

This young man reminds one of a genuine old-time farmer—in stature, in dodge, in actions, in conversation. He comes from the mountainous region of Wenksville, but quite a bit of his time is spent on Yellow Hill, wherever that is. Ask Ada, she knows. "Abe" is a real mathematician too. Although not fully decided as to what course he will take, he expects to enter college somewhere.

Class Vice-President (1, 2, 3); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Edison Science Club (4); Track (3, 4); Baseball (4); Science Club (1).

STANLEY GUISE

"Stan"

General

Gardners, Pa.

"Aw, what's this world comin' to?"

"Stan" must have been sleeping when Mumper snapped this picture, because we don't see how he could have such an innocent look on his face. We're just kidding you, Stanley,—but we're not kidding you when we hope that you have a long and prosperous life.

Football (3), Football Manager (4); Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Music Club (4); Glee Club (4); Male Quartet (4); Band (4); Baseball (4); Track (4); Peter Pan Players (4); School Play (4); Senior Play (4).

ELEANOR EBBERT

"Ebbert"

General

Gettysburg, Pa.

"An' who told you that?"

And lo! Look this way and behold another lass of the departing class. Eleanor has been with us these four long years and has proven herself to be the possessor of a very friendly disposition. She worked faithfully, and it has never been too much trouble for her to do a bit of kindness. The school activities which appeal to her most are music and basketball. So this is Eleanor, just a good all-around sport.

Operetta (1, 2, 3); Volley Ball (1); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Track (1, 2); Senior Basketball (2, 3, 4); Glee Club (4); Pep Club (4).

JOHN McKINNEY

"Johnnie"

Commercial

Bendersville, Pa.

"How do you get that way?"

John seems to have taken the motto "Silence is golden" as his, for he is very quiet. It has been the object of all his teachers to get him to "speak up and express himself". We feel certain that he is not so quiet when in company with a group of boys. But, be that as it may, John is a good outdoor sport. His main hobbies are hunting, fishing and football. We feel sure he will make good.

Football (1, 2, 3, 4); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Track (1, 2); Glee Club (1).

WILDA WENK

"Willie"

General

Aspers, Pa.

"Can you beat that?"

"Where's Wilda? I suppose she's in the office." This is the usual question and answer. For where else could you look for her, she is Prof.'s "right-hand-man". What would the class of '31 and Prof. Raff. do without her? And is she a manager? Well I should say she is. She can handle those tickets faster than a card sharp can shuffle cards.

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Student Council (2), Treasurer Student Council (4); Subscription Campaign (3), Business Manager Subscription Campaign (4); National Honor Society (4); Science Club (1); Edison Science Club (4); Assistant Secretary of Class (3); Business Manager Peter Pan Players (4); Assistant Literary Editor Mirror (4).

HAROLD WEBB

"Webb"

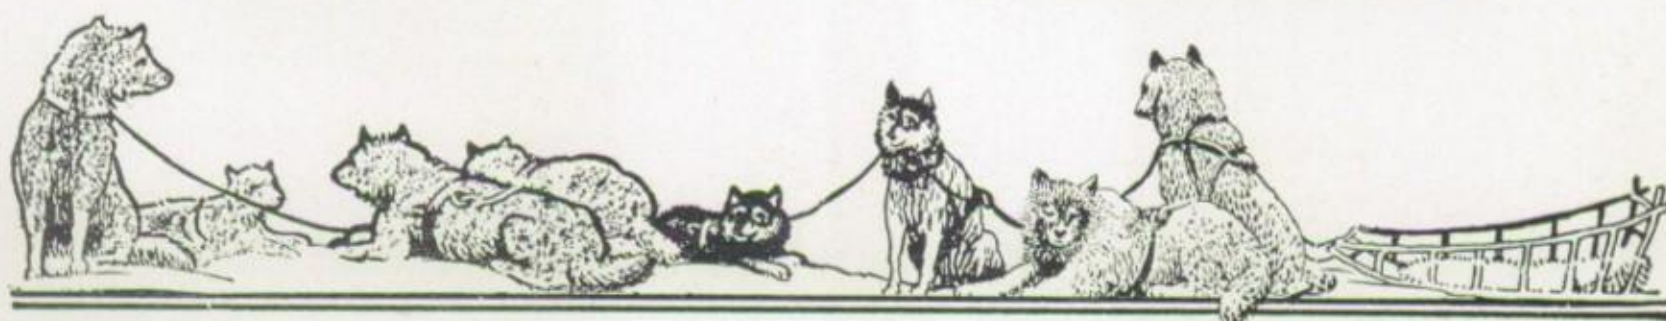

General

Biglerville, Pa.

"If you believe that one, I'll tell you another."

Harold isn't much of a socializer because he spends all his time on his lessons (??). When he comes to class he is so well prepared that he talks all the time (but not on the lesson). His main hobby is "I've lost my book". He generally arrives at school in the morning just in time to hear the last echo of the nine o'clock bell. But, nevertheless, we wish him luck in whatever he may undertake.

Journalist Club (4); Riley Literary Society (2, 3).

MARGARET BUSHEY

"Peg"

General

Aspers, Pa.

"Isn't he handsome?"

Having spent two years at Arendtsville, "Peg" joined us at the beginning of our Junior year. She hails from "Cranberry near Center Mills". But most of her time is spent at Biglerville. Although we are not certain, we believe her mind wanders to Annville frequently. We know that she will be successful as a primary teacher.

Glee Club (3, 4); Riley Literary Society (3); School Dramatic Club (4); Peter Pan Players (4); Operetta (3); "Captain Applejack" (4); School Glee Club (4); President Girl Reserve (4); Music Editor of "Mirror" (4).

RICHARD MORRISON

"Jummy"

Commercial

Bendersville, Pa.

"Can you tell me how to do this transaction?"

Richard is one of B-ville's best baseball players. He has had a great deal of experience and has played on some real good teams; such as that of Bendersville. He has a big part in making a success of any team he has been on. He is also quite industrious in bookkeeping class. "Jummy" is a quiet fellow (except when he laughs), and is well liked by every one.

President of Class (1); Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Commercial Club (4); Baseball (1, 2, 3, 4); Science Club (1).

ADA BLACK

"Blackie"

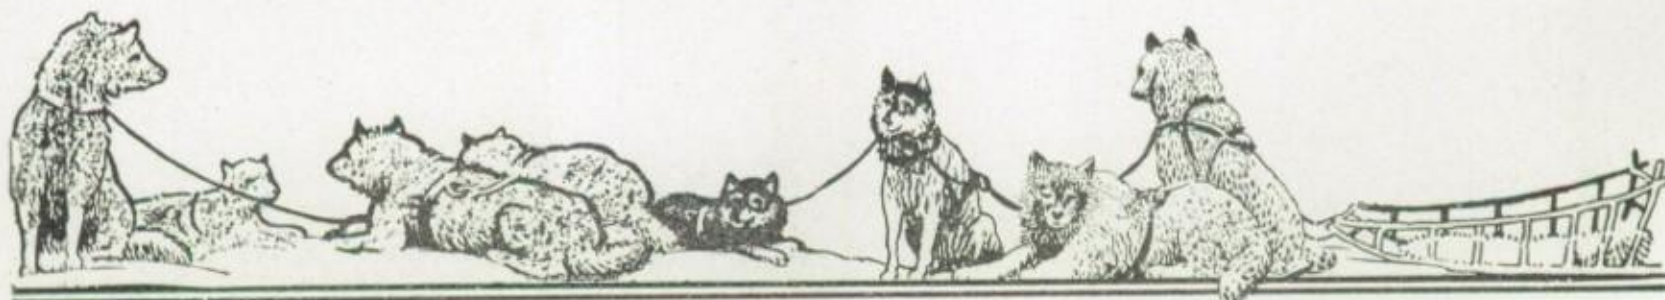

Commercial

Biglerville, Pa.

"What would you do about it?"

We almost envy Ada because she is one of the few who can keep their own counsel and still not be unpleasant. She is so modest and unassuming anyway that silence is almost what is expected of her. However, when she does speak she says something worthwhile. Ada can't keep from being well liked, and there is not one of her classmates who does not wish her well.

Spring Musical (4); Secretary National Honor Society (4); Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Pianist Riley Society (3); Glee Club (3, 4); Assistant Glee Club Pianist (3); School Glee Club (4); Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Band (4); Basketball (2, 4); Class Treasurer (1); School Pianist (3, 4); Science Club (1).

MARIE STARNER

Commercial

Gardners, Pa.

"It's a great life if you don't weaken."

Marie is a commercial student and expects to make her fame in the field of stenographic work. We prophesy that she will make good in this field of endeavor, for although she is quiet and reserved, she is ready to serve. We do not prophesy, however, that she will always be a stenographer for it is rumored that there is a certain "Bud".

Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Assistant Snap Shot Editor (4); Basketball (2); Science Club (1); Operetta (2, 3); Secretary and Treasurer of Music Club (4).

LAWRENCE WRIGHT

"Junie"

Academic

Bendersville, Pa.

"Go on, sit down."

Everyone is said to have a vocation and an avocation, and Junior finds Chemistry a very suitable avocation. Although he is not sure where he is going to school or what line of work he will pursue in life, we know that with the head he carries upon his shoulders, he is bound to make the best of life's opportunities.

Football (3, 4); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Edison Science Club (4); Track (4); Baseball (4).

CHARLOTTE KINZEY

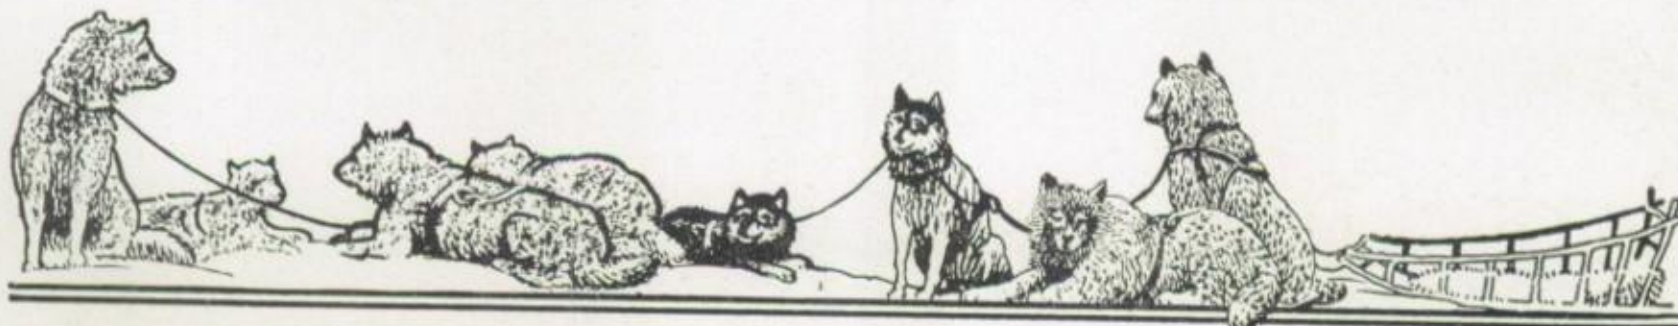

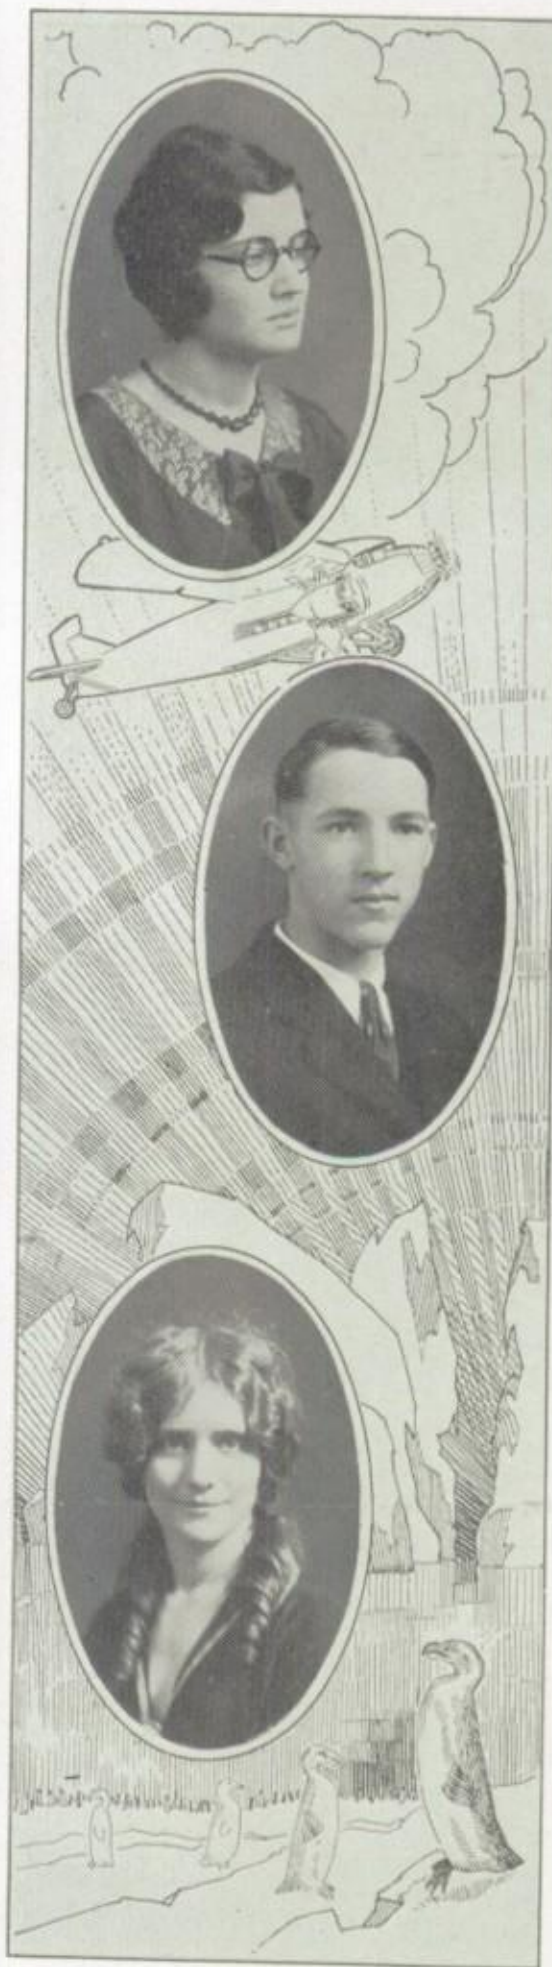

Classical

Biglerville, Pa.

"I wish I knew what to say in Journalist Club."

This young lass dropped into our midst from York Springs shortly after we had entered the portals of B. H. S. as Seniors. She never says much, but we know that she does a lot of thinking, for from the first she worked hard and proved herself to be a star in her studies. Her favorite study seems to be English Literature. We do not know what she expects to take as a life's vocation, but her stick-to-itiveness will always pull her through no matter what it may be.

Assignment Editor B.-Hi Times (4); Journalist Club Secretary (4).

VIRGINIA SADLER

"Ginnie"

Classical

Gardners, Pa.

"Be quiet, Prof.'s comin'."

The ideals of "Il Penseroso" and "L'Allegro", even though opposite, are fundamentals of Virginia's character. Her reserved maturity in class is set off by her energetic and humorous self when she is out with a group of chums. Of the six periods in the day "Ginnie" likes study periods most of all. We all join with her in thinking "What's the use of living if you can't enjoy life."

Science Club (1); Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Assistant Manager Arts and Craft Club (4).

ZELL THOMAS

"Zack"

Academic

Biglerville, Pa.

"Hence, nevertheless, furthermore."

You are now looking at one of the few real business men of B. H. S. Zell seems to have more business than anyone else. When he stops managing athletics it is a sure sign that something is going to happen. But, no joking, we are glad to have such a trustworthy and conscientious fellow as a classmate. He expects to take up electrical engineering. Following this line of work we are sure he will have a great future.

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2); Riley Literary Society (3); Edison Science Club (4); Peter Pan Players (4); Boys' Basketball Assistant Manager (3), Boys' Basketball Manager (4); Manager Baseball (4), Assistant Manager Baseball (3); Assistant Stage Manager (4).

NELLIE HELLER

"Broughie"

Commercial

Aspers, Pa.

A little "Miss Sunshine" and an all-around good sport; that is "Broughie". For she certainly can swallow anything you tell her and she certainly does root for old B. H. S. There is nothing "Broughie" likes to do better than to take rides in a certain Ford roadster, and sometime she is going to take a long ride, for keeps, too. Nellie has been voted the most industrious in her class and well does she deserve it, for what would our class have done without her as our treasurer?

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Perfect Attendance (1); Secretary of Science Club (1); Manager of Arts and Craft Club (4); Team Leader Subscription Campaign (3, 4); Class Treasurer (2, 3, 4); Literary Editor of The Mirror (4); Vice-President of Honor Society (3).

GEORGE DICK

"Dick"

Academic

Biglerville, Pa.

"Come on fellows, let's cheer!"

After looking at his numerous and varied activities, you will realize how popular George has been at B-ville. Even he is not immune from the charms of young ladies. She may live in Gettysburg, but what is seven or eight miles when you are in love? We all join in wishing George the greatest of success.

Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Peter Pan Players (2, 3, 4); Operetta (1, 2, 3); Basketball Manager (3); Assistant Basketball Manager (2); President Glee Club (4); President of Class (2, 3, 4); Manager Subscription Campaign (3); High School Dramatic Club (4); Track (4); Mixed Quartet (4); Male Quartet (3, 4); Spring Musical (2).

CHRISTINE GLEIM

"Ted"

Classical

Goodyear, Pa.

"Nothing else but!"

Christine is an ambitious translator of Latin and French (??). She isn't all serious though, because she mixes her work with play. She is always ready with some joke, no matter how serious the occasion. Her classmates know that she will succeed.

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Secretary of Arts and Craft Club (4); Joke Editor, The Mirror.

MORGAN BOMBERGER

"Mulligan"

General

Gardners, Pa.

"Mulligan" has more absent and tardy marks than Grant ever had soldiers. He never seems to have time to prepare his work and consequently has to borrow somebody's. But usually that's too much bother so his work is left undone.

Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Science Club (1); Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Music Club 4.

MYRTLE SMITH

"Smitty"

General

Aspers, Pa.

"Well I don't know."

Myrtle is another of those ambitious, persevering members of the class of '31. She came to do what everyone should do who attends school—study and learn. As a result of this, "Smitty" (with apologies) is well up in her class. Great will be Shippensburg's acquisition when "Smitty" arrives.

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Arts and Craft Club (4); Student Council (3); Science Club (1).

WAYNE ARNOLD

"Bill"

General

Biglerville, Pa.

"Aw, that's too much like work."

If you chance to be interested in arguing just consult "Bill". He'll give you all the details concerning the subject. He is such a forceful arguer that in less than no time at all he can convince anyone that black is white. Because of this quality we would advise him to study law. We all like him and wish him the best possible luck.

Perfect Attendance (1); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Track (3, 4); Stage Manager (4); Peter Pan Players (4); Dramatic Club (4); Sport Editor The Mirror (4).

MARION SHRIVER

"Donnie"

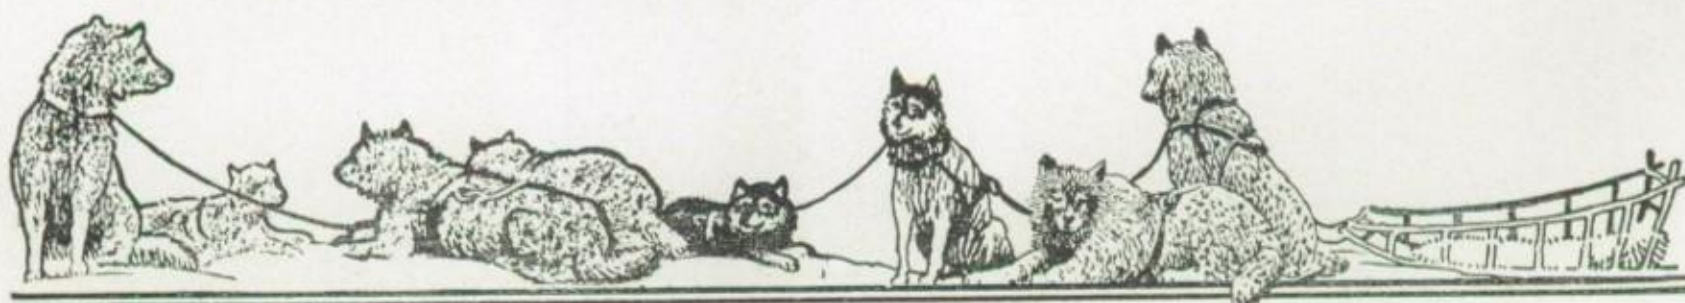

Classical

Gettysburg, Pa.

"I don't know, do you?"

Marion is just a real good classmate. She does her work well, obeys orders, and minds her own business. We don't know whether she has a "—" or not. If she has, we hope he is as conscientious as she is. We do not know what Marion expects to do after graduation but we prophesy success in her chosen work.

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Senior Glee Club (4); School Glee Club (4); Assistant Librarian (3); Librarian (4); Alumni Editor The Mirror (4); Science Club (1).

ONEDA DEARDORFF

"Biscuit"

Commercial

Bendersville, Pa.

"Gimme a stick o' gum."

Oneda is one of the best typists B-ville has known. She was fortunate enough to win a certificate and silver pin for accuracy in typewriting in her Junior year. "Biscuit" is an apt student and diligent worker—proven by the fact that her name appears on the honor roll each term.

Science Club (1); Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); School Dramatic Club (4); Junior Glee Club (4); Student Council (4); Assistant Alumni Editor The Mirror (4).

MERLE GUISE

Commercial

Gardners, Pa.

"D'ja know sumpin'?"

Behold the expert stenographer of the Senior Class. By the looks of things Merle will soon be representing Mr. Gregg himself. And don't think for one minute that he can't influence business men when asking for ads. But, laying all jokes aside, his scholastic standing is among the best, and we are sure that he will succeed in his future career.

Editor B.-Hi Times (4); National Honor Society (4); Science Club (1); Perfect Attendance (1, 2, 3, 4); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Journalist Club (4); Business Manager The Mirror (4); President Student Council (4); Class Historian (3).

MILDRED SHUE

"Mid"

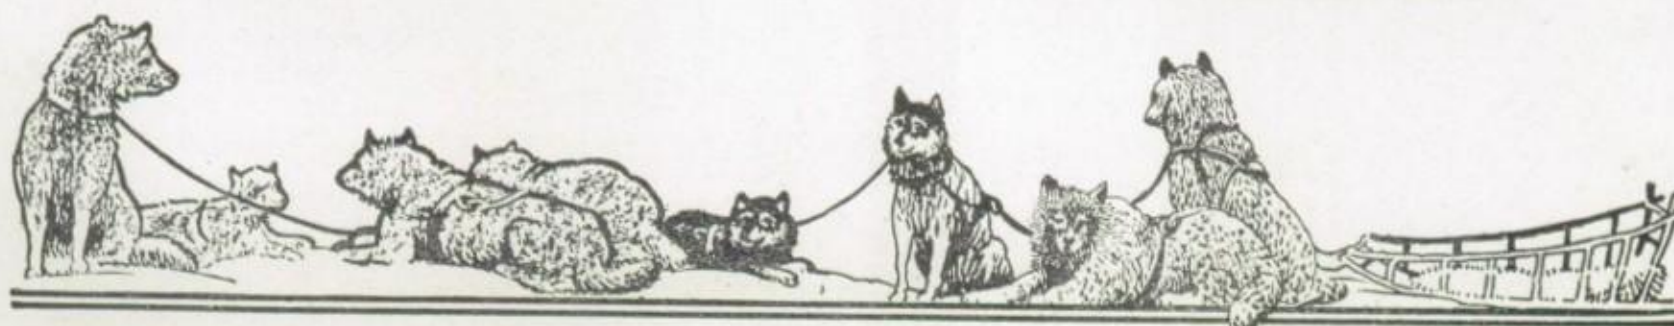

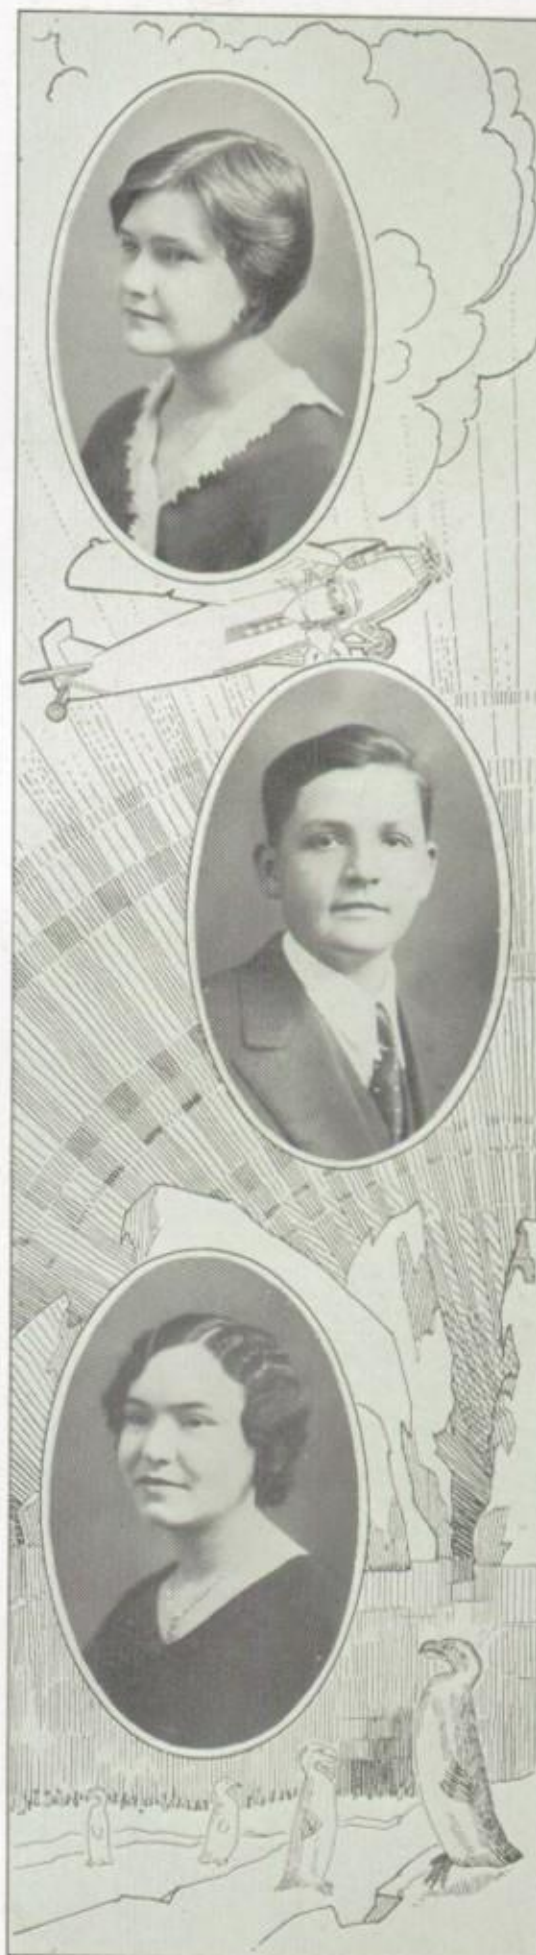

General

Biglerville, Pa.

"Coming to the game tonight?"

Here is a rare combination of intellect, talent and pleasing personality. Mildred is very quiet and studious in the classroom but when it comes to sports she is as cheerful and jolly as anyone. She expects to enter Lock Haven where she will specialize in kindergarten work. As fortune awaits the patient and industrious, we feel sure she will make good in her chosen work.

Science Club (1); Volley Ball (1); Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Secretary and Treasurer Glee Club (4); Perfect Attendance (1); Subscription Campaign Class Leader (3); Basketball (2, 3, 4); Journalist Club (4); Candy Manager (4); Operetta (1, 2, 3); High School Play (4); Secretary of Class (4); Assistant Editor-in-Chief of The Mirror (4); Spring Concert (2); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Pep Club (4); Peter Pan Players (4); Typist B.-Hi Times (4).

BRUCE THOMAS

"Bruno"

Academic

Biglerville, Pa.

"You don't say!"

The question now is: can a person possess both good looks and intelligence? Bruce thinks such a thing is possible. Aside from not knowing when the War of 1812 was fought, and what time the 10:10 leaves, Bruce knows everything to be known. "Good luck 'Bruno'!"

Basketball (1, 2, 3, 4); Football (2, 3, 4); Baseball (3, 4); High School Play (4); Assistant Candy Manager (4); Assistant Business Manager, The Mirror (4).

VIRGINIA WRIGHT

"Ginnie"

General

Aspers, Pa.

"Why, the very idea!"

When other school activities require Miss Weaver's supervision we always take for granted that Virginia will assume charge of study hall. Is she strict? Just ask the Freshmen. She is much interested in primary work and expects to enter Lock Haven. How we envy the members of the little Red Schoolhouse!

Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Journalist Club (4); Team Manager Subscription Campaign (4); Art Editor The Mirror (4).

RICHARD BLOCHER

"Rick"

Commercial

Flora Dale

"What do you mean by that?"

This young man can frequently be seen going along the hall with a blank look on his face. There are only two ways to explain Richard's predicament: either he is asleep or he is thinking, and if he is thinking, what is he thinking of? We shall not say we do not know.

High School Glee Club (2); Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Glee Club (4).

JANET DELP

"Sunny"

Commercial

Gardners, Pa.

"Gee, it's a peach"

Pretty as a picture, meek as a lamb, quiet as a mouse—that's Janet. She is a girl who thinks a lot, but says very little. If B-ville were composed of more students of this type it would seem more like a vault than a school, but perhaps greater things would be accomplished. Like most quiet lassies she says very little along certain lines, but, observing her actions, one can see that she has been pierced by Cupid's golden arrow. We know some concern will be pleased to have Janet as a stenographer.

Science Club (1); Whittier Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Student Council (3); Operetta (2); Snap Shot Editor (4); Glee Club (4); Music Club (4).

WAYNE WALTERS

"Shorty"

Academic

Gardners, Pa.

"Say, d'ja ever hear the one about—"

This young man is very quiet (???)—only when he sleeps. He is also very studious and much interested in mechanics. If a group suddenly bursts out laughing you can be sure that Wayne has either been telling some more of his jokes or making some witty remark. We don't know how anybody could help liking Wayne.

Riley Literary Society (1, 2, 3); Science Club (4); Assistant Art Editor (4).

VIOLET GINDLESPERGER

"Vi"

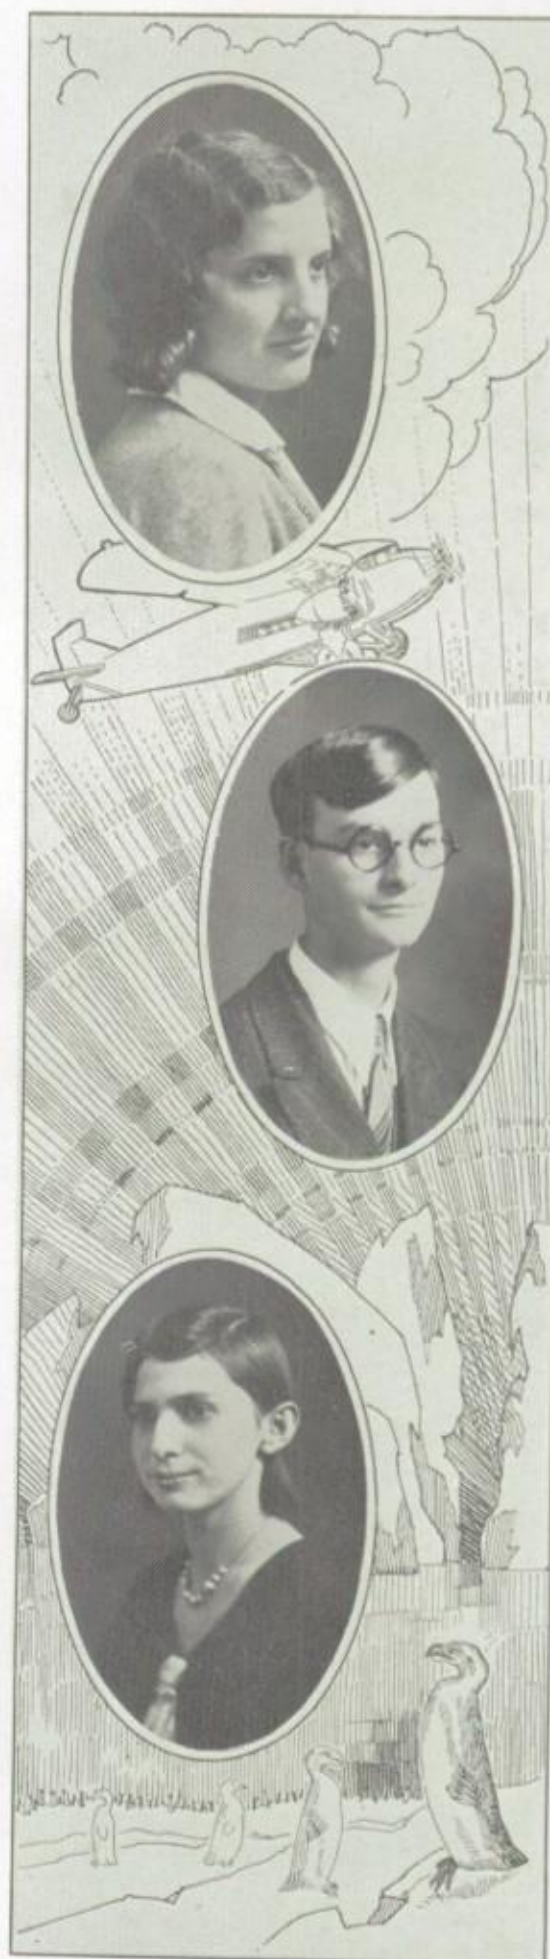

General

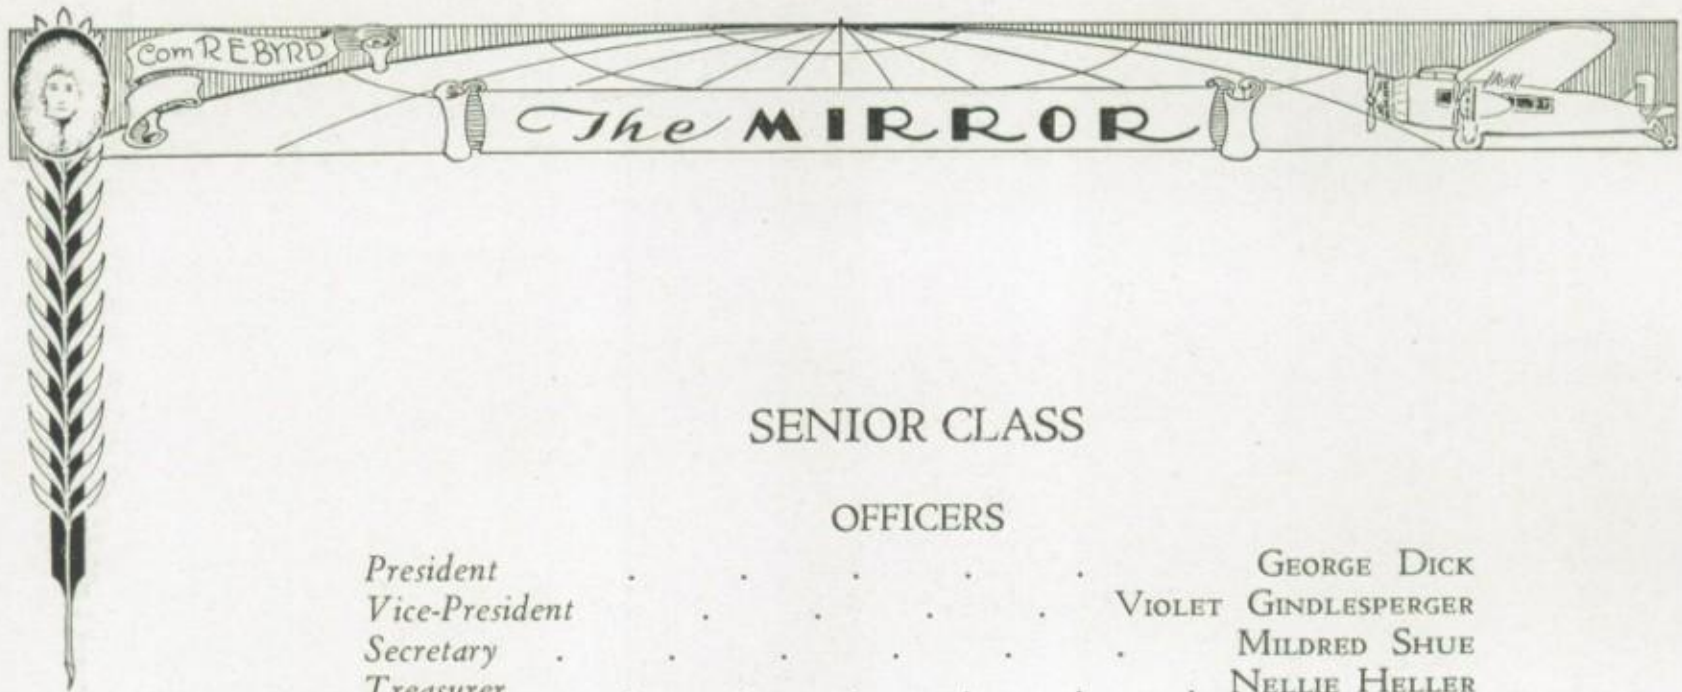

Biglerville, Pa.

"Have you subscribed for your year book?"

When the class needed the right person to do the right thing at the right time Violet was on the spot, and thus she became Editor-in-Chief of The Mirror. Violet has been one of the mainstays of the Senior Class for the last four years. She has taken part in the activities of the school so often that even the Freshmen know her. We all join in wishing her as much success in life as she has achieved during her high school career.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

As the time draws near when we must leave the halls of dear old B-ville the Class of '31 looks back with a feeling of pride upon the undertakings it has accomplished, the ideals it has followed, and its unwavering loyalty to all efforts to further the good name and reputation of the institution which we too soon will call Alma Mater. We wish to express our gratitude and friendship to those who have aided and guided us while we were at B-ville, realizing now the difficulties they had to contend with in their task of opening to us broader fields of vision and planning and shaping in our hearts the thoughts and ideals we shall carry with us in the years to come.

We arrived at B. H. S. almost four years ago (it seems but a short while) one nice sunny morning in September. With Mr. Enck as our advisor, we began our high school career aright. The members having been introduced to each other, officers were elected. Our class colors, motto and flower were chosen several weeks later. School life for a while was made rather exhilarating by the upper classmen. However, as time went on, we made new friends and began to imbibe that "never-say-die" spirit of good-fellowship. We began to feel a part of the school, and as such we began to feel a responsibility in upholding its good name and reputation. We showed our school spirit by taking part in many events of the season. Athletics and music were general attractions. May brought final exams and the close of school. We had completed our first year and were now Sophomores.

As Sophomores we came to B. H. S. again in September. We were disappointed to learn that three of our members had fallen by the wayside, but were very glad to see two new faces appearing in our group. Under the leadership of Mr. Yost, we applied ourselves with vigor in the effort to continue our undertaking with honor. We were proud of the fact that our class had the largest representation on the honor roll. A great many were winning importance in organizations and athletics. We were being trained for future duties.

Having had three months of refreshing vacation, we, a class of "jolly Juniors", filled the atmosphere of the school with mirth and energy. Our depleted ranks were an incentive to fight, to press forward. This year again we had Mr. Yost as our faithful guide.

We journeyed through our third year with much more self-assurance than we had the previous years. Our self-confidence and respect had increased tremendously. A great change seemed to have taken place. We began to feel our importance and unconsciously we were preparing for the time when we, too, would be Seniors.

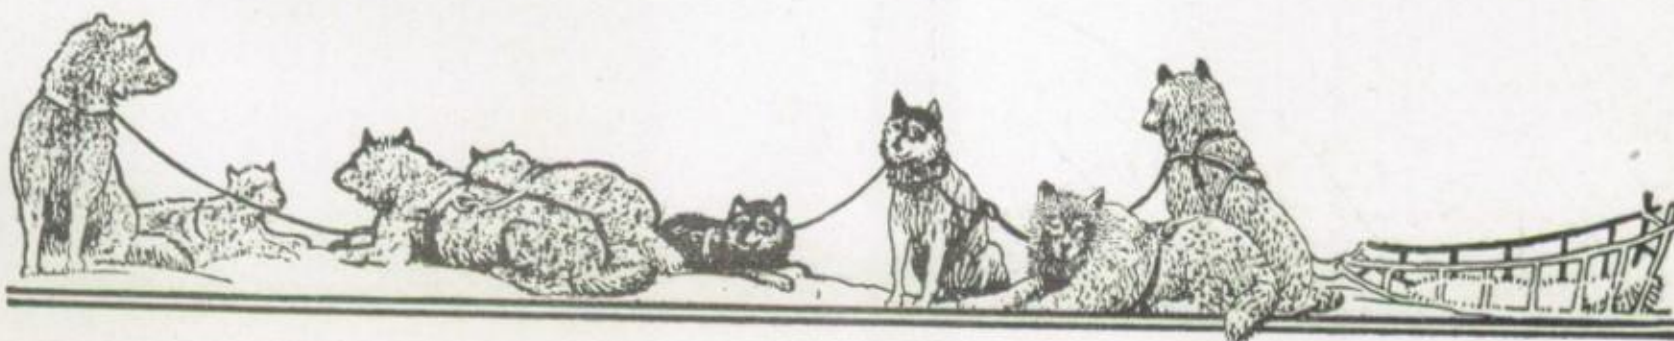

This year was more eventful than the two preceding ones. The first outstanding incident was the choosing of our class rings. Then, in October, came the Hallowe'en party, held in the high school auditorium. Perhaps the merriest occasion of the year was the Junior banquet at Piney Mountain Inn, on April 11. A little later the yearbook staff was chosen.

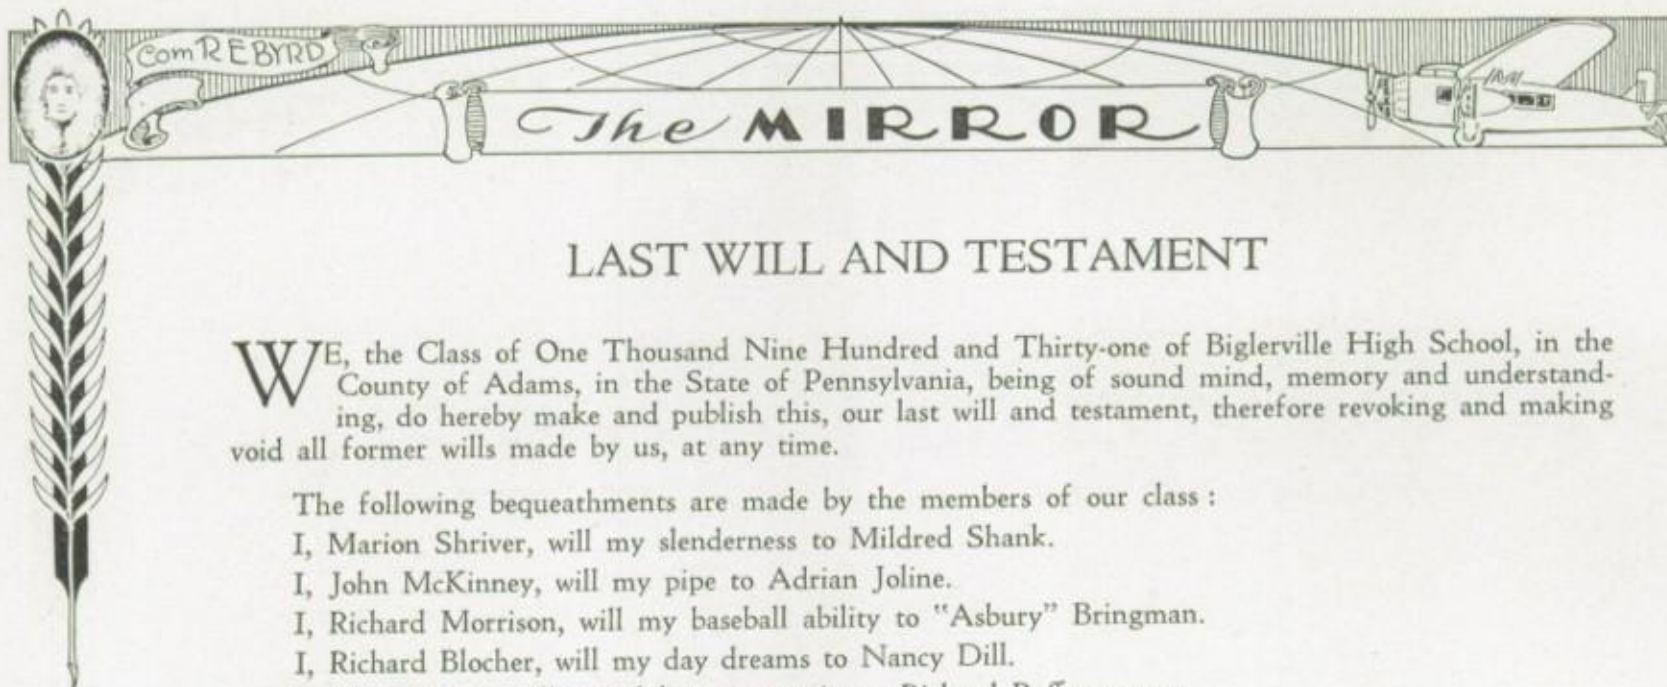

Spring had come and graduation time was at hand. We saw the Senior Class of 1930 graduate—the class whose shoes we were expected to fill. With their graduation we automatically became Seniors. And as Seniors we felt invested in a new dignity and responsibility; our duty was not to belie that responsibility.

This, our Senior year, proved to be the busiest as well as the most joyful. Of course, the first thing on the program was the election of class officers. Then in a few days our pennants and emblems were selected and ordered. The next outstanding event of the season was the school play, "Captain Applejack", presented October 30, in which many Seniors took an active part. In November the chief subject for discussion was photographs for the year book. Because of lack of finances, J. D. Lippy's "Prince of Illusions" was given November 25 for the benefit of the year book fund. For the next several months everyone was busily engaged in studying, working on the year book, and participating in athletics and other school activities. In April the Senior play, "Clarence", was largely attended. The month of May was spent in getting all back work up to date, taking final exams and preparing for Class Night, Commencement and the trip to Washington.

With the day of graduation at hand we find ourselves reluctant to leave the school which has sheltered us for four years. To leave seems like parting with an old and trusted friend who has been our confidant for many years. While we will technically no longer be a part of Biglerville High School we can content ourselves with the thought that as alumni we can still support B-ville's good name from without in the years to come.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

WHEN we entered the ship of learning in the fall of '29, little did we dream of the misfortunes and hardships that would befall us. Our brave crew consisted of twenty-four inexperienced sailors. Unfortunately a few of our group have perished in the storm or have taken a ship back to port, but we are glad to say that their vacancies have been filled by new members. We readily took our places among the other crews on board and have proven our ability in athletics, music and scholarship.

In spite of the awful breakers and the treacherous rocking of the ship we have succeeded in keeping our course for two years. Several times we feared we would be destroyed in the waves of History or the storms of Caesar, but by hard work, we have managed to keep our ship aloft. We are confident that we will be able to overcome the difficulties which will confront us in the future and that we will reach port safely.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

IN the fall of nineteen hundred twenty-eight our eager throng stood at the airport of B. H. S. ready to climb into the cockpit, "Study", to begin our non-stop flight through the blue depths of "Learning" to our goal, "Knowledge". We were welcomed into the ship by the pilot, our principal, and were made comfortable in its various departments by the fine mechanics, our worthy instructors, from whom we learned the purpose of the flight, its dangers and the means of making it a success.

We have sailed on for three years, finding the fuel of our ambition inexhaustible. The trip was brightened immeasurably by two Hallowe'en parties at which we all had a rollicking good time. Though we were severely tested by constant fear of falling into a tail spin, we have passed the tests and are now Juniors, leading in athletics. Isn't that a proof of our sincerity?

N. C.

TO B. H. S.

Our boat is on the shore,
And our bark is on the sea;
But, before we go, B. H. S.,
Here's a double health to thee!

Here's a sigh to those who love us,
And a smile to those who hate;
And, whatever sky's above us,
Here are hearts for any fate.

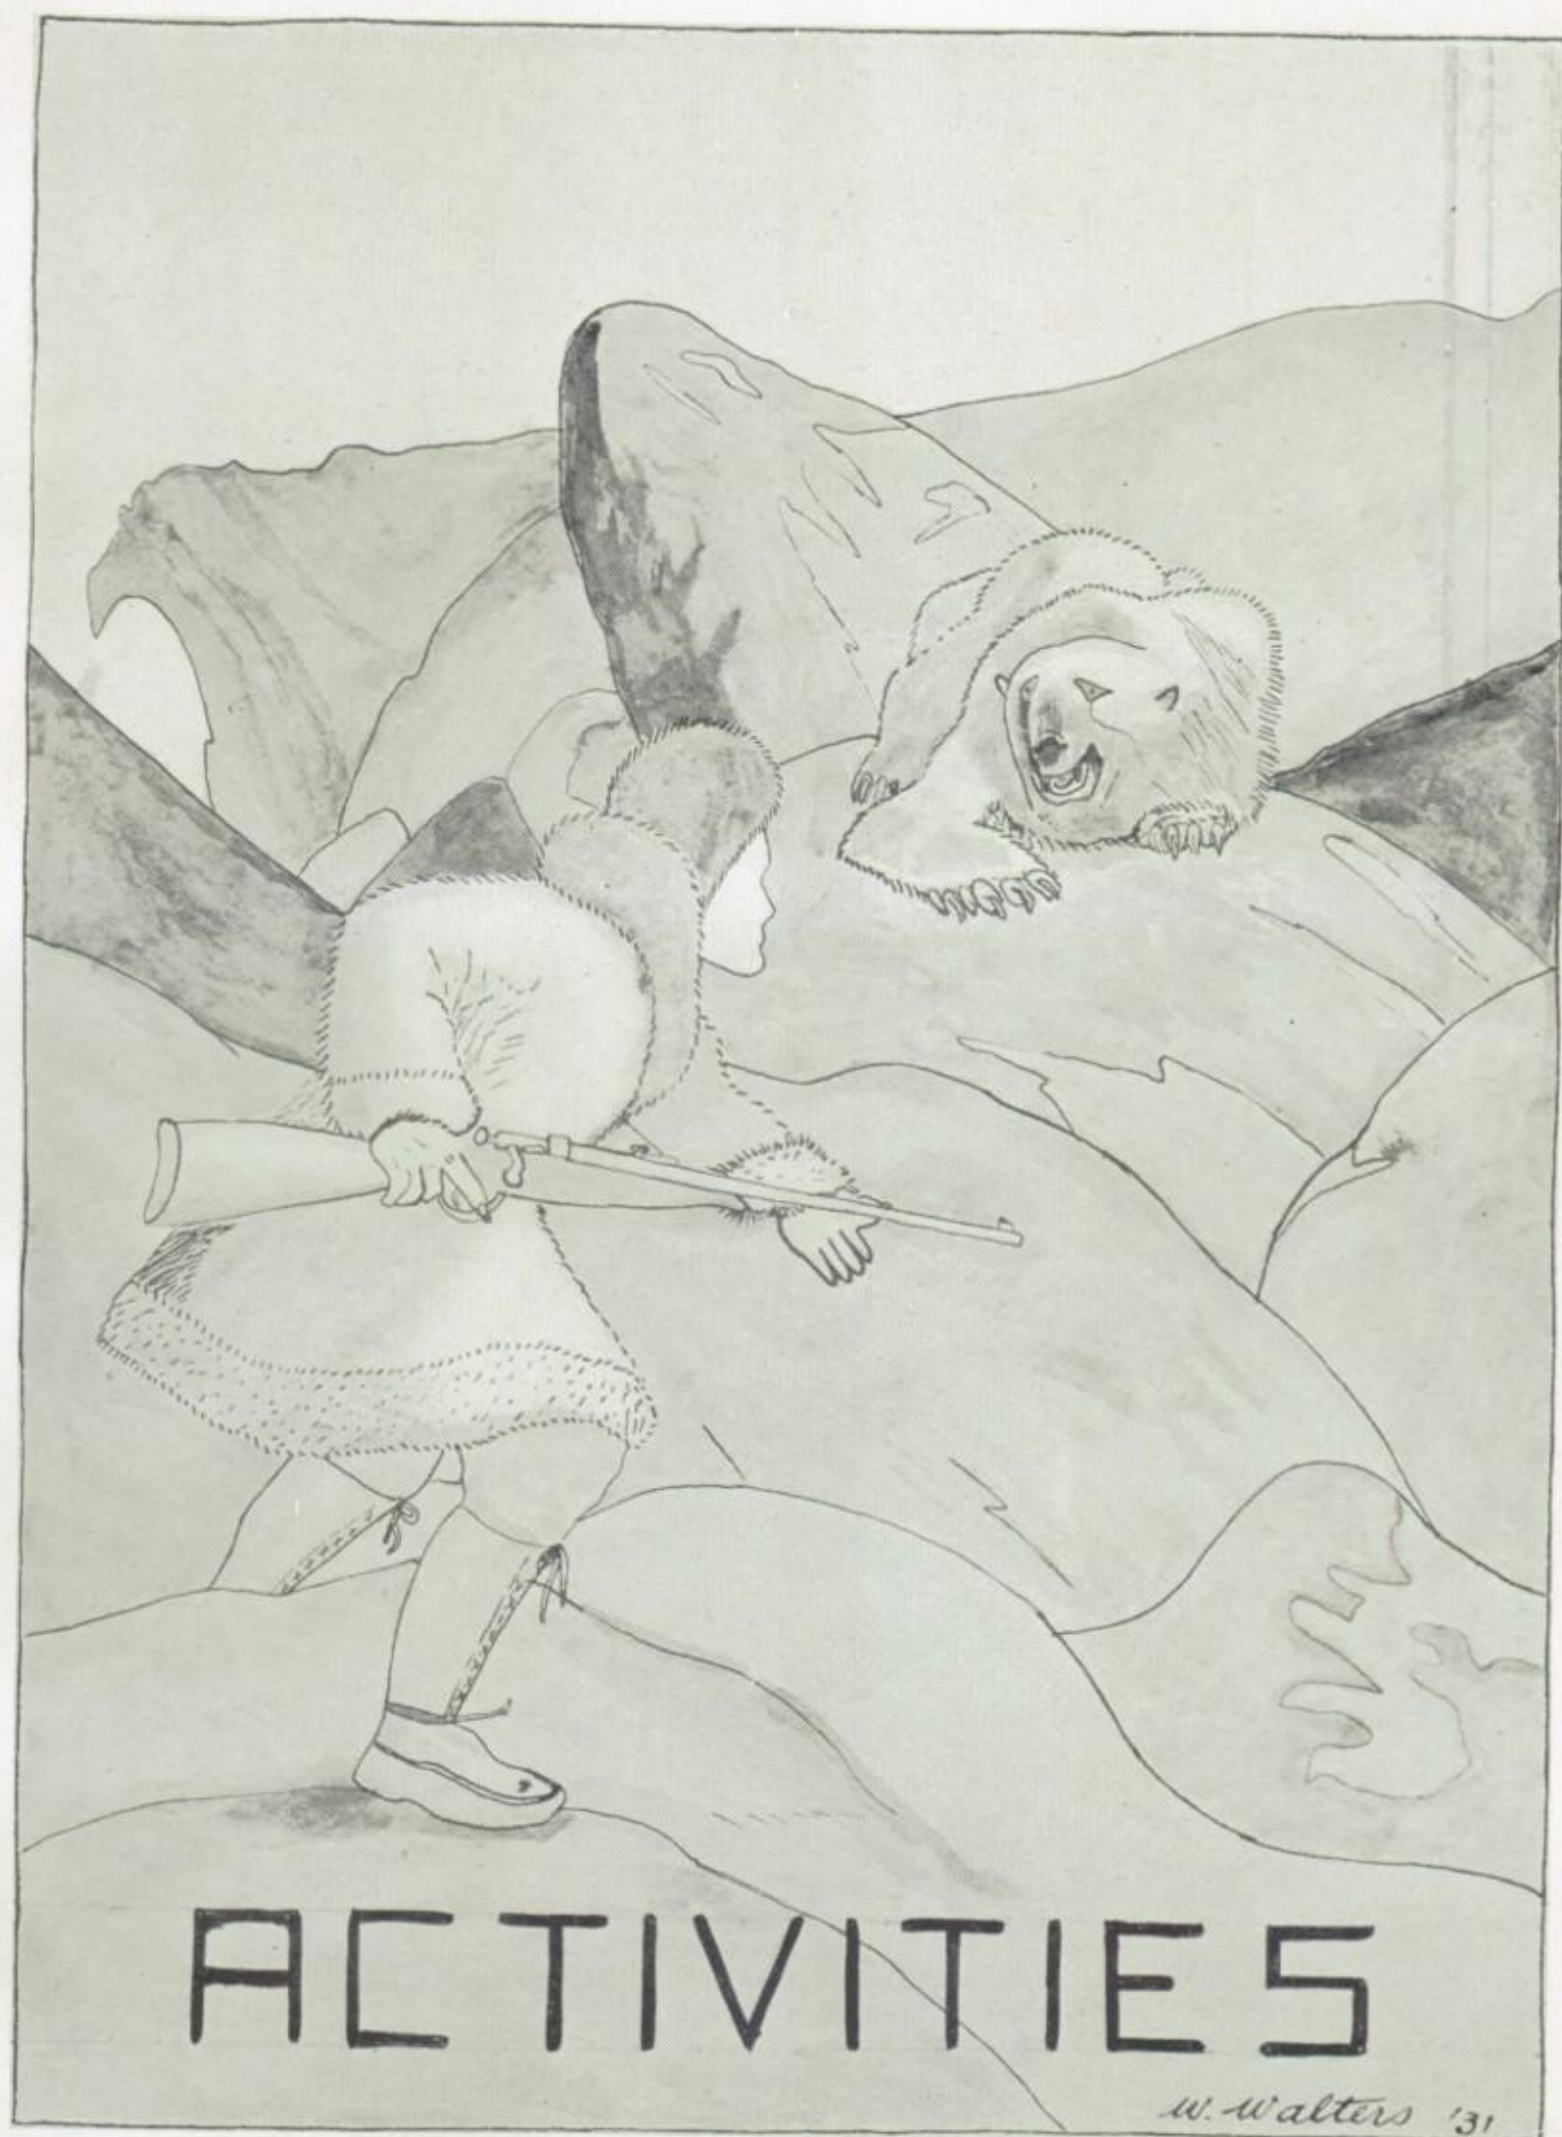

Though the ocean roar around us,
Yet it still shall bear us on;
Though the desert should surround us,
It hath springs that may be won.

Were't the last drop in the well,
As we gasped upon the brink,
Ere our fainting spirit fell,
'Tis to thee that we would drink.

With that water, as this wine,
The libation we would pour
Should be—peace with thine and ours,
And a health to thee, B. H. S.

(With apologies to Lord Byron).

THE LONELY FIGHT

It's easy to be right when the multitude is cheering ;
It's easy to have courage when you're fighting with the throng ;
But it's altogether different when the multitude is sneering,
To fight for what you know is right with no one else along.

It is easy to be honest when the multitude is gazing ;
It is easy to be truthful when the crowd is standing by ;
But it's altogether different when there is no spotlight blazing
To stand alone for what is right, and never cheat or lie.

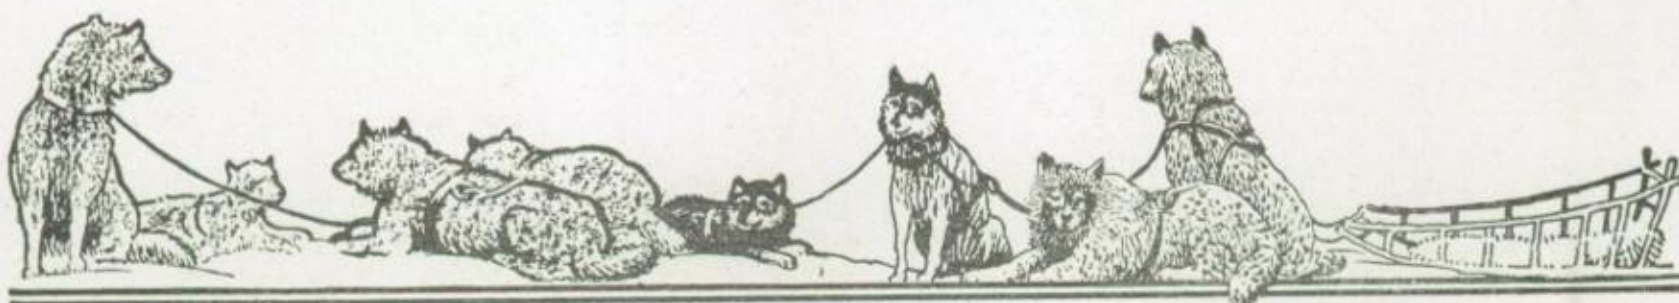

OUR ATHLETIC IDEALS

WHY do we come to school ? "To develop a sound mind in a sound body." And when in a man's life should he be most careful to develop a sound body ? In his high school days, of course. This in a few words is the aim of our athletics at B. H. S.

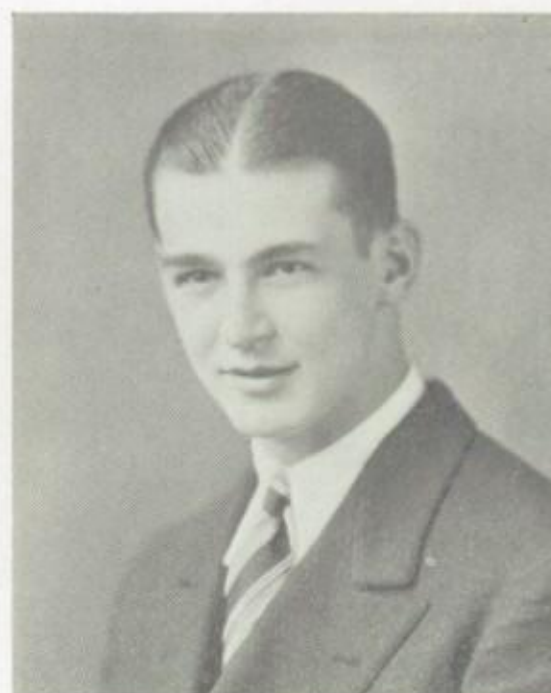

Almost synonymous with our ideals of athletics are our ideals of sportsmanship. There is nothing which we love better than a good, keen, stiff and fair-fought game ; however we do not "razz" our opponents if we lose, but we give credit where credit is due.

Such policies of good sportsmanship as are pursued at B. H. S. are sure to leave their stamp on the lives of the students. Thus we think that the student body owes a great deal to athletics at their Alma Mater.

OUR COACHES

What is a wagon without a horse to pull it? What is an engine without steam to run it? Then, what is any kind of a team without a good coach? We certainly could hardly improve upon the coaches we had this year—for they led us victoriously through football, baseball, basketball and track.

AT last Biglerville came through with a successful football season. With lighter men in use than ever before in Biglerville's football history, Coach Forney succeeded in developing a winning team. The season looked exceptionally bright until Baumgardner had his collar bone broken during practice. Then during the game with New Bloomfield, Bream had his leg broken. In the next four games of the season their services were sorely missed. Conover was the only regular backfield man to remain in the line-up during the entire season.

Although the team will be hard hit by the graduation, the hopes of a good team for '31 are bright.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Coach GEORGE FORNEY
 Manager *ZELL THOMAS

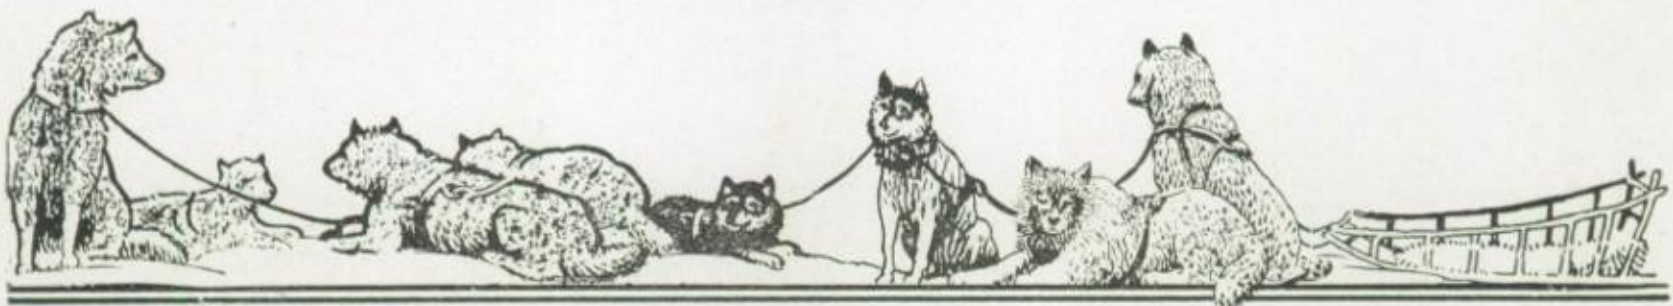

ALTHOUGH the basketball team was hard hit by graduation Coach Forney was successful in producing a winning team. After a hard season the boys can be proud of having ten victories and nine defeats.

The prospects for '31 and '32 are bright even though three first team men will be graduated. There are many who, with a little more experience and practice, will follow in their footsteps and help make a successful team next year.

THE baseball team last year came through the season fairly successful due to the careful coaching and hard work of Prof. Yost. With Hertzog and Herman on the mound and Baumgardner and Roth behind the plate, we were able to overcome our most difficult adversaries. There were others on the team who wielded a weapon that proved to be the destruction of their opponents, among whom were Guise, Morrison and Slaybaugh.

With the graduation of the class of '30 the baseball prospects for '31 do not look so bright, but with the discretion which the coach always uses we know he will find a hard-working, sportsmanlike team.

THE track team was successful in bringing two cups to B. H. S.'s storehouse of trophies. At Shippensburg the track meet was won by the hard work and efforts of the relay team, which gave us the cup permanently. At Lebanon the relay team again won a cup despite the rain and a muddy track.

"CAPTAIN APPLEJACK"

BIGLERVILLE High School opened its Hallowe'en celebration with an Arabian Night's adventure, a three-act play which was presented on Thursday, October 30. "Captain Applejack" is a delightful mystery comedy, and was staged with modern and fantastic costumes.

The scene of the play is laid in the library of Ambrose Applejohn's house in Cornwall, England.

The plot is that of a young man living along the seacoast, who is so bored that he advertises his house for sale and determines to go off in search of adventure and romance. He gets his wish, but without leaving the house.

The mystery involves an alleged celebrated Russian dancer, an escape from Moscow, the theft of the jewels of the Grand Duchess—the pursuit by Bolshevists—the appeal for aid—a place to hide—the discovery of a secret cabinet and the parchment revealing the burial place of a long forgotten treasure.

The plot is intriguing and fascinating.

The actors portrayed their roles with ease. George Dick showed skill in his role as "Captain Applejack" the pirate, and captivated the crowd with his "blood curdling" cries of "Blast ye, ye lubbers, scum!"

Violet Gindlesperger as Poppy Faire excelled in her role and the severest critic would give her praise as one of the outstanding members of the cast, with almost professional skill.

Lush, the typical English butler, played by Stanton Thomas, though a minor character, was played so well that it gained a large number of laughs of the evening.

Margaret Bushey as Ann Valeska, and Stanley Guise as Borolsky, weak in spots, played their very difficult roles to the satisfaction of the audience.

Others deserving praise were: Albert Ebbert as Johnny Jason, Dorothy Hoff as Mrs. Whatcombe and Mildred Shue as Mrs. Pengard.

Other members of the cast who were also very entertaining and who deserve praise are: Bruce Thomas as Mr. Pengard, Joel Zepp as Dennet, Guy Beamer as a pirate.

Much credit must be given to the stage managers, Wayne Arnold and Zell Thomas, whose stage arrangement, especially in the pirate scene, exceeded in realism any former Peter Pan production.

THE Peter Pan Players of Biglerville High School in the Fourth Annual Dramatic Contest with neighboring towns, New Oxford, Littlestown and Arendtsville, came through victorious for the third time.

The trophy, a silver loving cup, was presented by the Owl and Nightingale Dramatic Club of Gettysburg College.

The winning play, "The Locked Chest", written by John Masefield, present poet laureate of England, was acted exceptionally well for amateurs.

Due to the popularity of the Peter Pan Players several requests were made to present the play at other places, such as at the Gettysburg Rotary Club and the Loysville Orphans' Home.

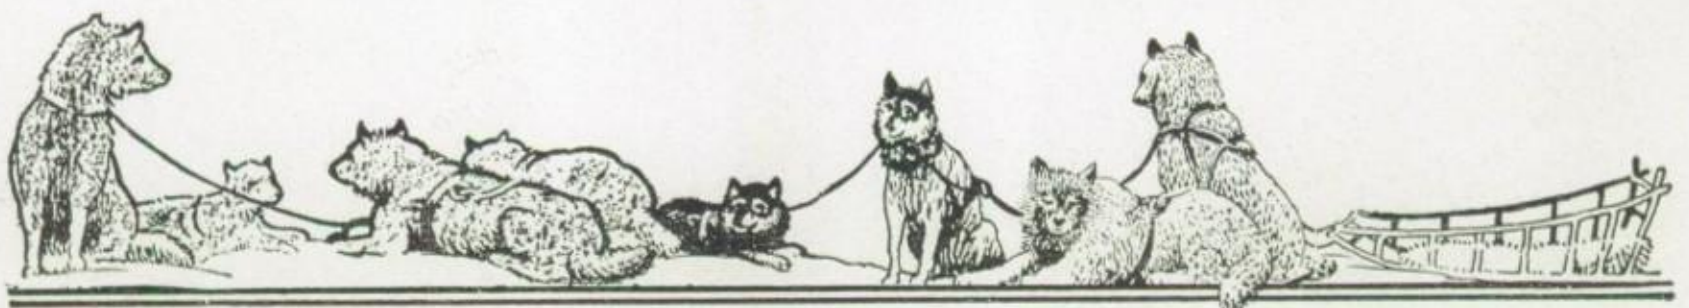

TAKE MY ADVICE

THIS play, presented by the Owl and Nightingale Club of Gettysburg College, will be remembered for the lesson it taught, "Always take anyone else's advice except one who almost compels you to take his." Two former graduates of B. H. S. who are now going to Gettysburg College, participated in this production: Jean Thomas, who took the part of a marriageable young daughter, and Robert Bucher, the salesman from the South American Petroleum Company.

SKIDDING

AND did we laugh! I'll say we did, until our sides almost ached, and the tears streamed down our cheeks. The play was presented as the last number of the lyceum course by the Community Players. So much pep and enthusiasm were never manifested on the B. H. S. stage before. We hope that none of the families of Biglerville will try the stunt the Judge's family did.

Mrs. Wheeler	Margaret Bushey
Bobby Wheeler	John Deardorff
Cora Wheeler	Anna Miller
Violet Pinney	Violet Gindlesperger
Clarence	George Dick

SCENES

- Act I: Anteroom to Mr. Wheeler's private office, New York.
 Act II: Living Room of Mr. Wheeler's home in Englewood, New Jersey.
 Act III: The same—that evening.
 Act IV: The same—next morning.

"CLARENCE"

HAVE you ever seen an actress who could give the audience an uproarious laugh on every line? If you have not, you should have seen Anna Miller in the role of Cora Wheeler, whose natural sarcastic temper exerted all its power on her impudent little brother.

Our "Clarence" was a very natural reproduction of Harold Lloyd in the first act. His former productions on the stage have given him polish, and his final appearance in the play "Clarence" was almost professional.

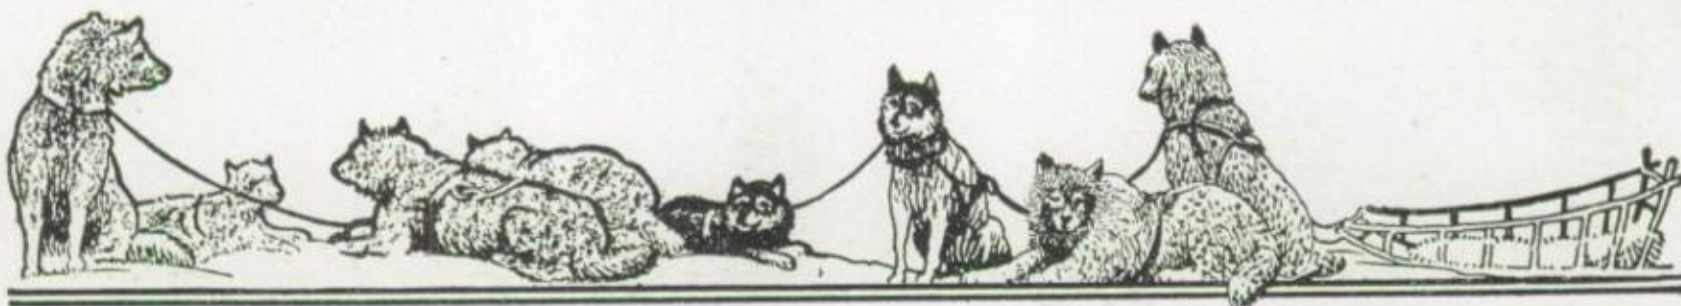

This play occasioned Albert Ebbert to grow his first mustache, and it certainly aided him in portraying the character of the smooth, sarcastic, suave and fault-finding villain.

Margaret Bushey's effective sobbing was the most pathetic and yet humorous part of the play.

Stanley Guise in the role of Mr. Wheeler made a complete transformation from a typical farmer lad to a business man of affairs.

The remainder of the cast did their part in making the play the success it proved to be. They were: Della, the Irish maid, Marion Garretson; John Deardorff, his sister's fighting equal, playing the part of Bobby Wheeler; Dinwiddie, the silent yet perfect servant, Harold Heiges; and Mrs. Martyn, the old maid, confidential secretary of Mr. Wheeler, who was forced to endure the squabbles between Bobbie and Cora: Virginia Wright.

Praise is due Wayne Arnold and Zell Thomas, the stage managers, Mr. M. A. Shue, who installed a very effective set of lights on the stage, and Mr. Herbert Mahl of Gettysburg Seminary, who suggested the make-up for several of the characters.

HERE are represented the journalistic brains of Biglerville High School. They criticize any newspaper from the New York Times to the Gettysburg Times, and they help the staff of The Mirror at every turn. But let me tell you the greatest thing they did: they were the founders of the B-Hi-Times which will sometime, perhaps, take the place of The Mirror. In other words, the aim of the Journalist Club is that of elevating and promoting journalistic features of the school.

EVERY high school student must have something for which to strive: a goal, an ideal—and yet something within his grasp. Toward what better goal can he attain than membership in the National Honor Society?

The purposes of the society are to promote more enthusiasm for high scholastic standing; to make the students more desirous of serving their Alma Mater; to promote worthy leadership; and to encourage the development of noble character.

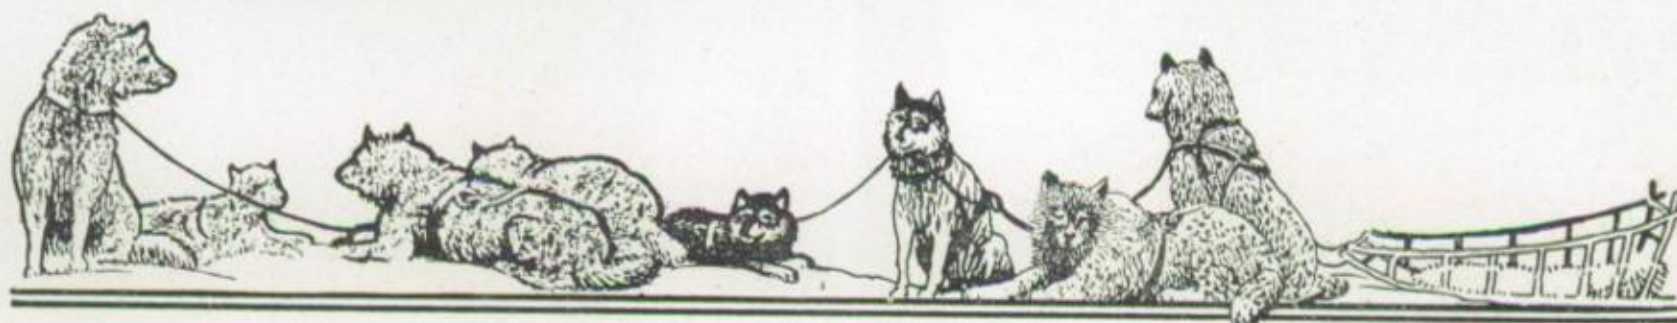

THE MALE QUARTET

"What is so rare as a song in tune?"

THAT'S what the song birds of B. H. S. think, for when they get together they continually indulge in close harmony. Although there is quite a difference in the height of Albert Ebbert and Ronald Bream their voices blend well together in singing first and second tenor. And of course we would not have a quartet without some bass, so we must not forget our first and second bass voices, George Dick and Stanley Guise. George and Albert are the bass and tenor soloists of the Glee Club.

These song birds have entertained us many times at Parent-Teachers' Meetings. They also have the honor of being in the Community Men's Chorus and have been selected to form a quartet in that organization.

We hope the door of opportunity opens widely for each of them for we feel sure they will make a success of their vocal ability.

THE GLEE CLUB

Director C. L. Yost

THIS has been one of the most prosperous years the Glee Club has seen since it has been organized. It has received about a hundred dollars from the various churches where it has given sacred programs.

It has taken a prominent part in several Parent-Teachers' meetings during the year.

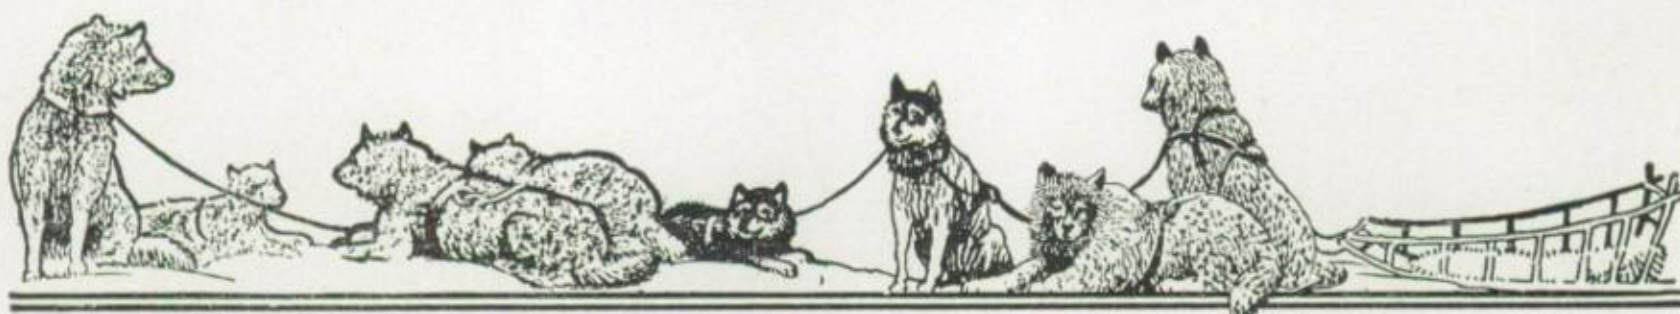

The following are the churches that have been visited by the club: Bender's Lutheran, Fairfield Menonite, Ground Oak Lutheran, Boiling Springs Lutheran, York Springs Lutheran, Biglerville Lutheran, and Bendersville Lutheran.

Our greatest expectation of the year is to have the honor of broadcasting over the radio from Harrisburg.

Here's a hope that the future of the Glee Club will be as successful as the past has been.

B-HI TIMES

IN the annals of the history of B. H. S. the Journalist Club of 1931 will always be remembered for the beginning of our first school newspaper, the B-Hi Times. With the noteworthy assistance of the advisor, Mr. Forney, the paper went forth with a bang until the very end. Surely the old adage, "Great oaks from little acorns grow" will hold true in this case.

HUMOR

IF YOU HAVE ANY TEARS TO SHED, SHED THEM NOW

W. Walters '31

ARE THESE NEW TO ANYONE ?

Adrian : "I forgot it."
Bruce : "It's out of my book."
Junior Wright : "I know what you mean, but I can't explain it."
Harold Lower : "Were you speaking to me ?"
Harold Bucher : "I did the other ones."
Norman Peters : "I brought the wrong book."

Teacher : "Johnny, what does the buffalo on a nickel stand for ?"
Eugene R. : "Aw! 'Cause he can't sit down I suppose."

Teacher : "What's an octoroom ?"
Pupil : "An eight-sided cuspidor."

Jumbo : "Do your accounts balance in bookkeeping ?"
Richard B. : "Yes indeed! I put four mistakes to make mine balance this month."

Mr. Stock : "Can you tell me what saliva is ?"
Bruce T. : "I can't remember, but it's right on the tip of my tongue."

Teacher : "Can you tell me what a hypocrite is ?"
Pupil : "Yes ma'm, it's a boy that comes to school with a smile on his face."

Mr. Yost : "What kind of a show was that you went to last evening ?"
"Peg" Bushey : "A musical tragedy."

A girl who admires a prize fighter might get a "knock out" any time.

VERY SMART

Smart Aleck : "Where were you born and where did you go to school ?"
 Ditto Second: "Born in Texas and went to school in Pennsylvania."
 Smart Aleck : "Had quite a long way to walk in the morning, didn't you ?"

Wayne Walters : "There's an awfully rumbling in my stomach, just like a wagon going over a car track."

Merle Guise : "Probably it's the truck you ate last night."

Inspector : "Any abnormal children in the Junior class ?"
 Mr. Yost (sadly): "Yes, two of them have good manners."

Lewis Rice : "Say, Jumbo, is your girl left-handed or right-handed ?"
 Jumbo : "Neither, she's second-handed."

ENTIRELY JOHN'S FAULT

Teacher : "This is the third time you've looked on Glenn Freed's paper."
 John D. : "Yes sir, he doesn't write very plainly."

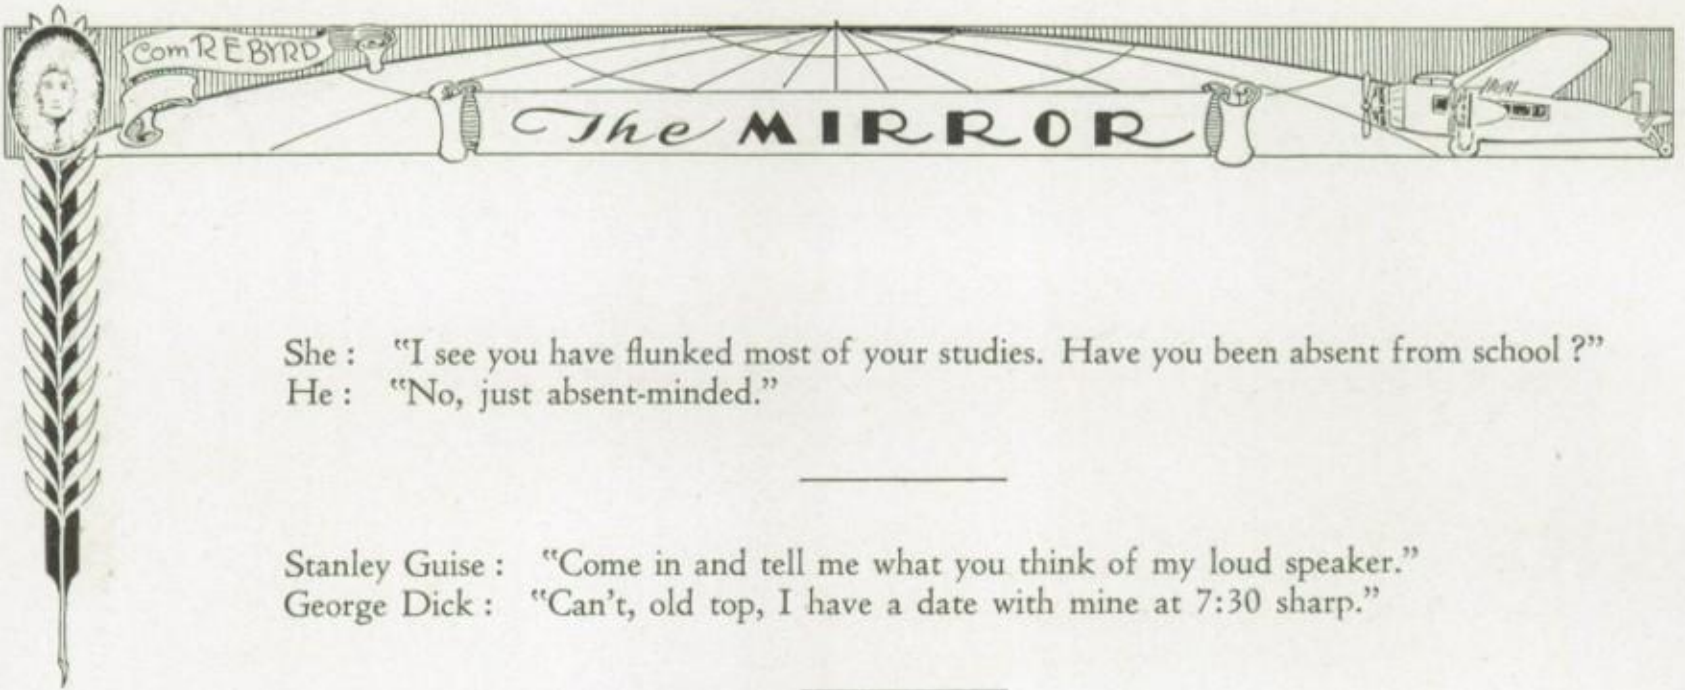

Richard B. (angrily): "These photographs look like an ape. They don't do me justice."
 Photographer : "Sir, you should have taken this into consideration before."

THE LATEST

Anna Miller: "Heard the latest ?"
 Evelyn Gin : "No! What!"
 Anna Miller : "Sophomores are mushy."
 Evelyn Gin : "Sounds like a wise fool's trick."

Mr. Enck : "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed ?"
 Watson Sadler : "At the bottom I suppose."

She : "I see you have flunked most of your studies. Have you been absent from school ?"
 He : "No, just absent-minded."

Stanley Guise : "Come in and tell me what you think of my loud speaker."
 George Dick : "Can't, old top, I have a date with mine at 7:30 sharp."

Old Lady : "Why aren't you in school today ?"
 Harold Webb : "Teacher is sick."
 Old Lady : "What's the complaint ?"
 Harold Webb : "Nothing, everyone seems satisfied."

The world hates a quitter—unless he is a public speaker.

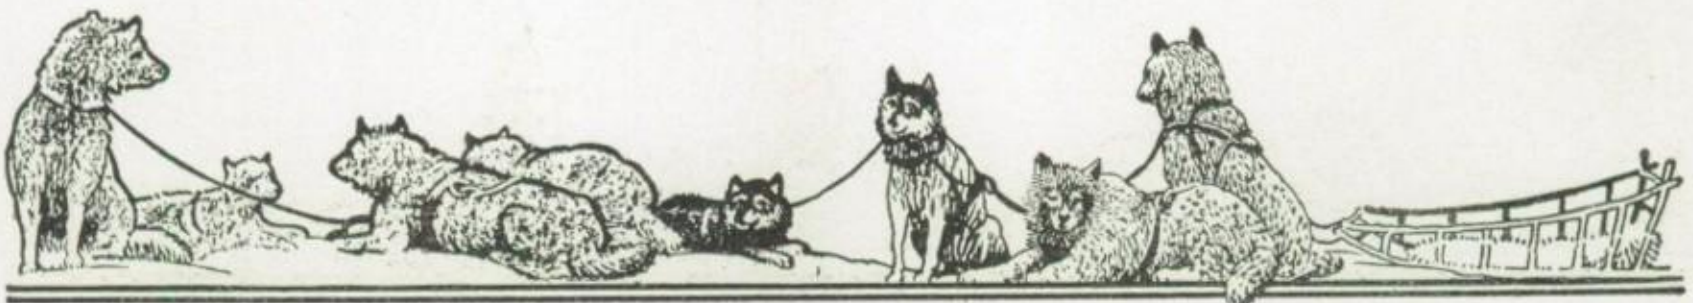

Morgan B. : "What kind of a place would this be if everyone were just like me ?"
 Joel Zepp : "An insane asylum."

Miss Weaver : "I think we shall give quotations today."
 Norman Peters : "Give thy thoughts no tongue."

Robert Raff : "Bill Trostle got a new pair of ducks."
 Harold Heiges : "What does he call them ?"
 Robert Raff : "His trousers, I suppose."

Prof. Raff : "Morgan, what does A. F. of L. mean ?"
 Morgan B. : "American Fraternity of Ladies."

Marion Garretson : "Have you any wealthy people in your family ?"
 "Cunnie" Lower : "Yes, my uncle is getting so rich he can't bore holes into furniture fast enough. He's an antique dealer."

Guest (at the dinner table): "Please pass the nuts."

Absent-minded Professor: "Certainly, but there are a few that I should flunk."

Boy: "What are ancestors?"

Father: "Well, for instance, I'm one of yours."

Boy: "Why then do people brag about them?"

Mr. Enck: "This is the fourth time I saw you throw paper wads. Aren't you ashamed?"

Junior Wright: "No sir, I don't think one ought to be ashamed of one's convictions."

Mr. Yost (speaking of instruments): "Gracious! Norman, have you ever played on anything before?"

Norman L.: "Yes indeed, I played on the linoleum when I was three years old."

SWEET MEMORIES

Helen Orner: "What are some of the sweet memories of your school days?"

Vesta Rockey: "When the teacher lost her voice and couldn't talk."

Old Gent: "Be this the Women's Exchange?"

Woman: "Yes sir."

Old Gent: "Be you the woman?"

Woman: "Yes sir."

Old Gent: "Guess I'll keep Maggie for a spell."

Virginia: "Do you really like conceited men better than the other kind?"

Hilda Fohl (simultaneously): "What other kind?"

Officer (to couple in a car): "Can't you read that sign? It says 'Fine for Parking'."

Harry Conover: "Yes sir, I heartily agree with it."

TO OUR ADVERTISERS

WE extend most cordial greetings to our advertisers for their generous response to our 1931 appeal. Their splendid sense of cooperation and understanding has done much to make this memory book possible. We hope for them continued success.

A HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT'S "IF"

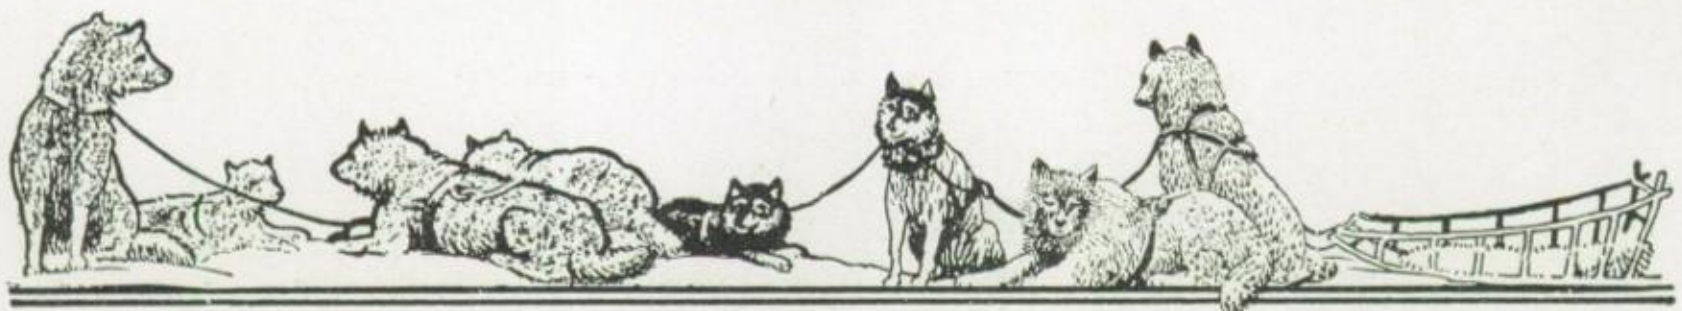

If you can leave the path of least resistance,
Where thousands are content to stop and play,
And march straight on with faith to meet the struggle,
Sleeves up, teeth set, to make, alone, your way ;
If you can start to school in fall with zest and vigor,
And face each morning's task with nothing less ;
If you can set the goal toward which you'll labor,
And view all lesser aims as "nothingness" ;

If you can take assignments given you,
And give to each your honest care and thought,
To glean from it some honest truth to fit you better
To fill the place in life, you know you ought ;
If you can gain some A's, yet in the getting,
Not make of them a goal to boast with pride—
Or see your very best go unrewarded,
And still fight on with this—"I know I tried" ;

If you can master "Math" and French, and Latin,
And yet not be "too smart" or act "too wise" ;
If you can meet the test that's giv'n you, fairly,
And that without a sign of cheat or lies ;
If you can fill each day with sixteen hours
Of study, play, and duties numberless,
And yet can, with it all, have "time and plenty"
For any cheery act of helpfulness ;

If you can laugh and joke and play the jester,
And yet not go too far or be unkind,
If you can intersperse your work with fun and laughter,
And thus escape the lot of "weary grind" ;
If you can throw yourself into athletics,
And give to them each day a rightful share,
Yet find in music, too—or art—true pleasure,
So cultivate a taste that's broad and fair ;

If you can learn to live with those about you,
To fit into each circumstance you meet ;
To be to all a friend who can be trusted,
Who spurs them on to overcome defeat ;
If you can do these things—be unaffected,
And give of your best self as He did give,
You'll be a student who will gain his purpose—
And what is more, you'll be prepared to LIVE.

"The play is done; the curtain drops,
Slowly falling to the promptor's bell;
A moment yet the actor stops
And looks around to say farewell.
It is an irksome word and task:
And when he's laughed and said his say
He shows, as he removes the mask,
A face that's anything but gay."
